Circleville City Council Breezes Through Routine Business Session

Circleville council Tuesday breezed through its regular business session in near record time, passing two ordinances and holding two more to second readings.

The first of the ordinances approved by Circleville Council authorized the safety director to advertise for bids for fire hydrants.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe urged the councilmen to act favorably on the legislation. He informed the city's legislative body that there were enough funds to purchase approximately 20 new hydrants.

The ordinance was passed unanimously. The second ordinance amended the city's bonding ordinance so that the two new city employees, the clerks in the income tax collecting office, will be bonded under the same coverage as other city employees.

THE bonding company recommended the amendment. David Goldschmidt, council finance committee chairman, explained the city would save approximately $270 by amending the ordinance.

Fourth Ward Councilman Boyd Horn cast the only negative vote pertaining to the amendment. Horn has voted against every amendment and resolution which has had any relationship whatsoever to the city income tax.

Held to second readings were two appropriation ordinances submitted by Mayor Richard Gerhardt in the last council meeting.

The first was to appropriate $300 for furniture for his office in the city building. The second was to appropriate $3,500 to employ a building inspector and furnish an office for the inspector.

Mayor Gerhardt informed council that he signed all ordinances passed at the Jan. 7 session with the exception of one appropriating funds for equipment and salaries of personnel in the income tax collecting office.

Mayor Gerhardt pointed out that he disapproved of the sections of the ordinance appropriating $10,000 for salaries and $9,000 for equipment. Both were over appropriations amounting to $5,000 the mayor explained.

"It is my feeling that rather than leave a known surplus in an appropriated account, it is wiser to leave it unappropriated."

and available. I do not object to the need for some money in such accounts, only to amounts actually appropriated and have prepared a new ordinance which would appropriate more closely the proper amounts," the mayor stated.

Council took no action on the mayor's veto.

In his remarks to council, the Mayor called their attention to $2,250.01 the city received in December for interest in their invested funds. This past year council passed an ordinance permitting the investment of

Despite Hopeful Paris Signs, Long Bargaining Still Ahead

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's speedy agreement to begin substantive peace talks Saturday appeared a hopeful omen to some U.S. officials today, but they warned again that long and difficult bargaining lies ahead.

These officials said the apparent willingness to negotiate seriously does not necessarily mean Hanoi and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front will reduce their demands.

This was apparent in an editorial of the official Hanoi newspaper Nhan Dan, broadcast Tuesday by Radio Hanoi a few hours after the agreement for a Saturday session was announced.

The only way to halt the Vietnam war, said Nhan Dan, is for the United States to comply with Hanoi's four-point program and the five NLF demands—an end to American "aggression in Vietnam," withdrawal of all non-Vietnamese troops and liquidation of their bases, noninterference in South Vietnam's political future and South Vietnam's eventual reunification with the North.

Nhan Dan said the United States was "forced" to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and accept an undivided round table for the talks. In the same way, it said, the Americans eventually will be forced to accept the Hanoi and NLF programs as a basis for negotiations in Paris.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officials expect their adversaries to restate their position. Washington and Saigon have rejected these demands repeatedly because they consider their fulfillment would be the prelude to a Communist takeover in Saigon. But the Americans and the South Vietnamese will study closely the way in which the other side presents its views to detect any shades of difference or hints of a softening.

TWO men have filed petitions for councilmen with the Pickaway County Board of Elections.

James Locke, 120 W. Water St., has filed a petition for the post of councilman-at-large, and Boyd Horn, 225 Walnut Street, has filed for the fourth ward. Deadline to file petitions for the May primary election is Feb. 5, according to clerks at the election board offices.

BACK on the Roundtown scene is Judge William Ammer who attended the recent presidential inauguration in Washington D. C. and Postmaster Charles Walters. While in California, the postmaster toured the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise just prior to the ship's ill-fated departure for training exercises which ended in the disastrous fires and explosions. Walters' guided tour of the carrier was conducted by John Wills of Circleville, stationed aboard the navy vessel.

NO NEW members for AA today. It's beginning to look like many smokers would rather "fight than switch" and most would rather "die than quit." Leo Morgan however, was discovered to be another long-time confirmed non-smoker. His wife, Christine, is proud of his "four years without a cigarette."

A doctor friend claims that now is the time to stop smoking. Many say they'll quit "when they have to," but the local physician says in some cases it's too late. Several heart patients have been ordered to quit smoking only to find the shock to the nervous system and consequently the heart equally as harmful as smoking.

DOC Swope reports the forsythia bush and pussy willow tree in his back yard are beginning to bud. There is an old saying that there will be three more snows after the forsythia blooms.

Everybody's hoping the warm weather stays around long enough to bring out the yellow flowers on Doc's shrubbery. But the warm weather is also increasing the flu and cold rate in the area according to the doctor.

Ohio Biennial Budget To Reach $5.8 Billion

Bucher Says Signals Sent Direct To LBJ

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The USS Pueblo's skipper says he used a communication priority direct to the White House as well as to his Navy superiors in Japan after North Korean gunboats surrounded his intelligence ship.

Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher told a Navy court of inquiry Tuesday he kept the channels open as the North Koreans made their first attempt to put a boarding party aboard. Minutes later, a salvo of shells from a subchaser raked his radar mast, wounding him and three of his crew.

Bucher said he did not order his crew to man their two machine guns and fight because it would have meant certain death for the gunners since the subchaser and three torpedo boats were standing at pointblank range. He said he had "no hope of outrunning them" to avoid capture.

The 41-year-old officer spoke calmly to the five admirals comprising the court, but his angular jaw dripping with perspiration—he appeared emotionally drained when he finished Tuesday. By then he had testified for 12 hours over two days.

The teachers challenged the board to a televised debate, and announced they plan to send notices to homes of students explaining the situation.

Senators Taking Dim View Of Pueblo's Inadequacies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says that if testimony is upheld charging the USS Pueblo was inadequately equipped for defense and destruction of secret equipment, "then someone higher up in the line of command has been guilty of a very grave dereliction of duty."

Russell, chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, said that testimony by the Pueblo's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher at a Navy court of inquiry indicates "a tragic mixture of errors" in outfitting the ship.

Bucher testified that the Navy failed to provide adequate means to destroy secret intelligence equipment, efficient guns and communications and made no arrangement for retaliatory help in case the intelligence vessel was threatened with attack.

"I do not want to prejudice this testimony," Russell said in an interview. "This is the statement of one man and perhaps the Navy has some satisfactory reply to it."

North Korea captured the Pueblo about a year ago, claiming the ship had intruded into its 12-mile territorial sea limit. The United States has denied the claim.

Bucher, who has said there was no time to set up a defense or destroy the sensitive spy equipment and files with the equipment provided, surrendered and with the 81 other surviving crew members was held captive until last month. The ship remains in North Korean hands.

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who serves on a special committee headed by Russell to supervise operations of the Central Intelligence Agency, said he was "greatly disturbed" by the Navy command's failure to install so-called destruct equipment.

"It seems incredible that they sent this ship out on a dangerous mission, practically defenseless and without the means to destroy its highly advanced electronics equipment," Young said.

Reds To Free More POWs

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong said today that they will release more American prisoners of war but gave no indication of how many or when.

The statement was made by the Viet Cong radio during repetition of a claim made Tuesday night that Spec. 4 James Brigham, an Ocala, Fla., Negro and one of three American prisoners freed New Year's Day, had been "assassinated" after he returned to the United States so he could not tell the Negroes the "truth" about the war.

Brigham, 21, died Sunday in Washington after an operation for a brain abscess apparently resulting from a wound when he was captured.

The broadcast today said: "We appeal to the progressive American and international peoples, through justice and humanity, to bring this matter to light and to condemn U.S. authorities for their retaliatory act... and to preserve the safety and happiness of the prisoners who were and will be released."

Watchdogs Fail Job Miserably

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sidney Foye of rural Sun Prairie reported to Dane County authorities that thieves entered his home and lugged off a food freezer, a refrigerator and a vacuum cleaner.

Foye said the appliances were apparently padded with bedding taken from a bedroom where he kept two watchdogs.

When officers arrived to investigate, Foye's dogs were in his yard and wouldn't let the officers on the property until Foye called them off.

Vo-Ed Plan Not Included In Tax Income

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposed budget for the next biennium will be $5,801,500,000, an increase of about five per cent over spending by the state for the past two years.

The budget was released today by Finance Director Howard L. Collier, who said 93 per cent of the anticipated general fund resources will go to welfare, mental health, education and juvenile correction programs. It also calls for increased spending in a number of other areas.

The new budget, Collier said, is balanced and no new taxes will be required. He said it contains all known and anticipated funds.

Collier said the anticipated income will now allow for a great degree of new programs and expansion as experienced in the past two bienniums. However, some expanded services are provided for in the new budget.

Collier said about $9.3 million will be left in the general revenue fund of the state at the end of this fiscal year, June 30, 1969.

For the next biennium higher education will receive 14.7 per cent of the budget or $42.4 million as compared to 13.9 per cent, or $32.2 million during the present biennium.

The areas of health and correction will receive $368.1 million for the next two years, compared to $300.1 million budgeted for the present biennium.

To provide for the increases, Collier said proposed outlays were cut back in the areas of legislative, judicial, and other government operations.

Collier said another significant cut will be in highway spending. He said that because of a freeze imposed by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, Ohio's spending for highways will decrease from $1.3 billion during the present biennium to about $958 million dollars for the coming biennium.

Collier called the budget "the best one we've ever had."

Collier said the largest share of the budget—slightly over a third—will go to education. He said welfare, which is the fastest growing expenditure, will

Poseidon Shot Ends In Blast

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Experts are analyzing radio data to learn why a Poseidon missile shot off course during a test flight Tuesday.

Seventeen seconds after the 34-foot submarine weapon darted away from a land launching pad, trouble developed in the first stage and the range safety officer flashed a radio signal that blew it apart.

Flaming pieces fell into the Atlantic Ocean about three miles offshore, and two secondary explosions spewed smoke and sea water several hundred feet into the air. A piece of the shattered rocket fell on a remote area of Cape Kennedy.

The first two test flights of the Poseidon, in August and November, were classified by the Navy as successful.

Poseidon, developed as successor to the Polaris submarine missile, will be capable of carrying up to 10 nuclear bombs in each warhead package.

Nixon Cabinet Takes Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven members of President Nixon's Cabinet were sworn in today and, at one point during the 20-minute ceremony, Nixon raised his own right hand—almost forgetting he'd done that two days ago.

Chief Justice Earl Warren administered the oath individually to the 11 department heads at an 8 a.m., nationally televised ceremony in the East Room of the White House.

Also taking the oath because they will sit in on Cabinet meetings were Budget Director Robert P. Mayo and Charles W. Yost, ambassador to the United Nations.

The 12th Cabinet appointee, Republican Gov. Walter J. Hickel of Alaska, did not participate. His nomination as secretary of the interior has hit at least a momentary snag in the Senate where some members question his devotion to the cause of conservation.

Nixon and Warren, long reported at personal and political odds, are seeing a lot of each other lately—even to the point of sharing a morning pot of coffee before today's ceremonies.

Warren was at the White House, too, to swear in 81 members of Nixon's personal staff, including secretaries who, while not required to take an oath, were invited to participate in the event so they would feel more a part of the Nixon team.

Warren, of course, administered the presidential oath to Nixon Monday.

Coolness between the two reportedly developed when both were powers in California politics and increased because of Nixon's disagreement over liberal decisions by the Supreme Court under Warren.

The President scheduled the Cabinet oath-taking ceremony for today expecting all 12 of his nominees would be legally qualified by then to assume their new positions.

Beneath the surface the situation may well be more explosive than in previous years, the result of the hardening of attitudes and a clearer view of the extent of relative denial."

Entitled "A Call to Action," the Urban League report set a target date of 1976—the nation's 200th anniversary—for solving "the basic domestic problems haunting this nation."

The report said: "The Johnson administration mounted an unprecedented attack on the problems and, in the process, created a great deal of good legislation aimed at relieving the hardships and inequities imposed on minority groups and the impoverished. Too frequently, however, the economic requirements of the war in Vietnam precluded full appropriations." In its 51 pages, the Urban League report stressed among other issues:

Inflation—The League said it "considers it unthinkable to combat inflation by manipulating an increase in the unemployment rate."

Called for "a vast expansion of currently successful manpower training programs (On-Job Training, Neighborhood Youth Corps and Special Impact Programs) on a scale calculated to meet the nation's total needs."

Rural Economic Development—Citing the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Rural Electrification Administration, recommended "the establishment of a similar agency to stimulate and coordinate the economic development of rural areas in the predominantly rural states."

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sidney Foye of rural Sun Prairie reported to Dane County authorities that thieves entered his home and lugged off a food freezer, a refrigerator and a vacuum cleaner.

Foye said the appliances were apparently padded with bedding taken from a bedroom where he kept two watchdogs.

When officers arrived to investigate, Foye's dogs were in his yard and wouldn't let the officers on the property until Foye called them off.

Poseidon Shot Ends In Blast

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Experts are analyzing radio data to learn why a Poseidon missile shot off course during a test flight Tues. day.

Seventeen seconds after the 34-foot submarine weapon darted away from a land launching pad, trouble developed in the first stage and the range safety officer flashed a radio signal that blew it apart.

Flaming pieces fell into the Atlantic Ocean about three miles offshore, and two secondary explosions spewed smoke and sea water several hundred feet into the air. A piece of the shattered rocket fell on a remote area of Cape Kennedy.

The first two test flights of the Poseidon, in August and November, were classified by the Navy as successful.

Poseidon, developed as successor to the Polaris submarine missile, will be capable of carrying up to 10 nuclear bombs in each warhead package.

black and poorer... frustrations in the ghetto are high. It would be folly to take comfort from the relative quiet of the past summer. Beneath the surface the situation may well be more explosive than in previous years, the result of the hardening of attitudes and a clearer view of the extent of relative denial.

Entitled "A Call to Action," the Urban League report set a target date of 1976—the nation's 200th anniversary—for solving "the basic domestic problems haunting this nation."

The report said: "The Johnson administration mounted an unprecedented attack on these problems and, in the process, created a great deal of good legislation aimed at relieving the hardships and inequities imposed on minority groups and the impoverished. Too frequently, however, the economic requirements of the war in Vietnam precluded full appropriations." In its 51 pages, the Urban League report stressed among other issues:

Inflation—The League said it "considers it unthinkable to combat inflation by manipulating an increase in the unemployment rate."

Called for "a vast expansion of currently successful manpower training programs (On-Job Training, Neighborhood Youth Corps and Special Impact Programs) on a scale calculated to meet the nation's total needs."

Rural Economic development—Citing the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Rural Electrification Administration, recommended "the establishment of a similar agency to stimulate and coordinate the economic development of rural areas in the predominantly rural states."

Inner Cities—"A comprehensive plan for the economic development of the ghettos should draw on the full tax, credit and subsidy powers of the federal government to induce the participation of private industry and should allow for full ownership by blacks once a given enterprise has become competitive."

Welfare—Its earliest replacement by an income maintenance plan. Meanwhile, adoption of the affidavit system for eligibility and establishment of a minimum standard for public assistance payments "below which no state may fall."

Family Planning—Expansion is recommended for existing services, with convenient locations and hours and "where this is impossible, we submit that available resources may be put to better use by providing the individual woman with funds to permit her to see a doctor privately."

Day Care—"There is a special need for facilities for the care of children from birth to the age of three to enable the teen-age mother to finish her education in order to improve her chances in life."

Education—The report urged the administration to "give credibility to the right of minority groups to determine their own destiny by supporting, via both legislation and appropriations, the concept of community participation in the control of educational and other institutions."

Housing Act of 1968—"Fully funded, it would increase total housing production to 2.6 million units a year, or about double the current rate, and increase production of low and moderate income housing to 600,000 units per year, or six times the current production of such housing. This latter provision would permit us to eliminate all substandard housing in the country in 10 years. This goal must be met."

Malnutrition—"The Food Stamp program is a fundamentally sound and dignified delivery system, but changes must be made in it to make sure that it is used effectively to fight the hunger of the poor."

Armed Services—"We consider it essential that military authorities take all necessary steps to reduce tensions and improve the racial climate in the armed services."

Suburban Blight—Citing what it called the emergence of suburban ghettos, the League urged "that the Department of Housing and Urban Development take consistent action both to reverse the present trend and to prevent deterioration of suburban areas in the future."

Police—The report recommended a White House conference of police chiefs, community representatives and law enforcement experts "to devise specific proposals for improving police forces and for bettering police-community relations."

2 Boys Arrested For Vandalism

Two juveniles were arrested Tuesday for acts of vandalism against at least six mailboxes on Route 4.

The youths, ages 12 and 13 years old, were arrested by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff following reports that they were pouring blue paint over the mailboxes. The two boys, from Route 4, have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

velopment of the ghettos should draw on the full tax, credit and subsidy powers of the federal government to induce the participation of private industry and should allow for full ownership by blacks once a given enterprise has become competitive.

Welfare—Its earliest replacement by an income maintenance plan. Meanwhile, adoption of the affidavit system for eligibility and establishment of a minimum standard for public assistance payments "below which no state may fall."

Family Planning—Expansion is recommended for existing services, with convenient locations and hours and "where this is impossible, we submit that available resources may be put to better use by providing the individual woman with funds to permit her to see a doctor privately."

Day Care—"There is a special need for facilities for the care of children from birth to the age of three to enable the teen-age mother to finish her education in order to improve her chances in life."

Education—The report urged the administration to "give credibility to the right of minority groups to determine their own destiny by supporting, via both legislation and appropriations, the concept of community participation in the control of educational and other institutions."

Housing Act of 1968—"Fully funded, it would increase total housing production to 2.6 million units a year, or about double the current rate, and increase production of low and moderate income housing to 600,000 units per year, or six times the current production of such housing. This latter provision would permit us to eliminate all substandard housing in the country in 10 years. This goal must be met."

Malnutrition—"The Food Stamp program is a fundamental sound and dignified delivery system, but changes must be made in it to make sure that it is used effectively to fight the hunger of the poor."

Armed Services—"We consider it essential that military authorities take all necessary steps to reduce tensions and improve the racial climate in the armed services."

Suburban Blight—Citing what it called the emergence of suburban ghettos, the League urged "that the Department of Housing and Urban Development take consistent action both to reverse the present trend and to prevent deterioration of suburban areas in the future."

Police—The report recommended a White House conference of police chiefs, community representatives and law enforcement experts "to devise specific proposals for improving police forces and for bettering police-community relations."

2 Boys Arrested For Vandalism

Two juveniles were arrested Tuesday for acts of vandalism against at least six mailboxes on Route 4.

The youths, ages 12 and 13 years old, were arrested by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff following reports that they were pouring blue paint over the mailboxes. The two boys, from Route 4, have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Kroger Robber Pleads Guilty To Reduced Charge

Charges of armed robbery and of assault with a dangerous weapon topped the docket of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court recently.

Daniel Hawks, Lexington, Ky., appeared Wednesday morning in court to face charges for the Nov. 11 armed robbery of Kroger's. Following testimony by Hawks that he stayed in the car and was unaware of the use of a weapon in the robbery the charge against him was reduced to unarmed robbery.

Hawks entered a plea of guilty to the reduced charge and was sentenced to Mansfield State Reformatory for 1-25 years.

Nicholas Kelley was arraigned and sentenced Wednesday morning for breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling at night with intent to commit personal violence. A second charge of assault with a dangerous weapon was nolleed by Judge William Ammer.

KELLY was charged with breaking into the home of Arthur Dick on Dec. 17, 1968, allegedly to get his wife who was staying at the Dick residence. Following an all-night chase Kelly and his wife were found hiding in a snow-covered field and were arrested by sheriff's deputies.

Judge William Ammer sentenced Kelly, who has a previous criminal record, to 1-20 years at Ohio State Penitentiary.

Robert Timmons of Route 2, was charged with uttering and publishing a forged check and with forgery.

Timmons, who is also wanted by the army for being AWOL, was secretly indicted by the January term grand jury. He was arrested Sunday night by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff at a local bar and grill.

A sentence of 1-20 years was imposed on both counts, with the two terms to be served concurrently at Mansfield State Reformatory.

Keith Hamp, Circleville, was charged with violation of probation. Hamp had been placed on probation in May for assault and battery.

Hamp's probation was extended one year for the violation, and he was ordered by Judge Ammer to report to the probation officer once a week instead of the previous once a month visits.

Bucher said earlier his assignment was to conduct surveillance on Soviet ships in the Sea of Japan and monitor North Korean radar.

It was halfway through his narrative Tuesday that Bucher told about messages designed for his commanders in Japan and ultimately the White House.

Stock List Advances

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a moderate advance this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.31 at 931.13.

Gains extended their lead over losses to about 200 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The market's action followed two days of quiet irregularity, with the trend a bit lower as Wall Street pondered the possible financial effects of the Nixon administration. The initial doubt appeared to be replaced by a little more confidence.

Motors, electronics and tobacco were generally higher, while steel was narrowly mixed. Airlines retreated fractionally as they faced the prospects that their system of fare discounts may be abolished.

INA Corp. was far ahead on volume as it dropped more than 2. The reported bid for control of INA by Levin-Townsend Computer was withdrawn under pressure by the Securities & Exchange Commission. Levin-Townsend lost more than a point in trading on the American Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 333.4, with industrials up .8, rails off .4, and utilities up .1.

Trans World Airlines remained steady despite a drop of about 50 per cent in net income last year after an accounting change.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange, with some wide gains.

Sun Satellite Fired By NASA For Research

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A solar observatory rocketed into space today to study the sun during a period of maximum flare activity and to help warn astronauts on the moon of perilous radiation storms.

The satellite, OSO-8, rode aloft in the nose of a three-stage Delta rocket at 11:43 a.m. EST, aiming for an orbit 350 miles above the earth, where its sensors can peer at the seething sun from above the distorting blanket of the atmosphere.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported early phases of the flight went very smoothly after the Delta blazed into the sky.

funds which are earmarked specifically, but are not needed immediately.

Both Councilman John Jenkins and the mayor noted that an engineer from the State Highway Department would be in Circleville Friday to survey the lighting and signs at the Route 23-Route 22 cloverleaf intersection.

The mayor said that at the same time the traffic situation on the Lancaster Pike at the Kroger Shopping Center will be discussed. Officials of the shopping center will be present along with Safety Director Robert Adkins to air the traffic problem. The mayor invited council members to attend the meeting Friday.

Councilman David Goldschmidt in explaining to his fellow solons the overappropriation in the ordinance setting up the income tax office funds, said the amounts appropriated were "maximum amounts."

"WE don't intend to go on a wild spending spree or buy anything more than we need," Goldschmidt stated. "We have spent $1,260.79 for two desks, chairs and filing cabinets. We have leased an addressograph rather than buy one and hope to lease a bookkeeping machine."

Council Clerk Robert Shadley noted that a number of persons had indicated to him recently that ordinances were changed after they had been read to council. He stated that he resented strongly any aspersions directed toward his secretary or himself.

He emphasized that every ordinance is typed by his secretary with no cost to council exactly as it is presented and approved on council floor.

He also said that certified copies of any ordinance are available from his office. A service charge of 50 cents a page, payable to the city of Circleville, is necessary to cover the cost of reproducing the ordinance, he noted.

Public Utilities Director Irvin Leist explained to the citizens present at the council meeting to the two councilmen why surplus funds in the water department cannot be transferred to other departments.

Leist pointed out that state statute prohibits a municipality from using water works revenues for other than water works purposes. He cited the pertinent sections of the revised code and Supreme Court cases which upheld the statutes.

Council adjourned at 9 p.m.

Police reported that highway traffic was slowed up also by fog patches around Toledo and Northwest Ohio.

Portraits Are Hung

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new portraits of former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were hung at the White House as the new Nixon administration took over.

Kurfess Attempts To Steer Workshop From Criticism

GLOUSTER, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood attempted today to keep his legislative workshop from becoming a forum for more bitter attacks on the programs of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Administration programs have been strongly blasted twice since the seminar began Monday at Burr Oak State Park near here.

Both came from university professors and more are expected. Milder criticisms of Rhodes' proposals also have been voiced.

"This is the greatest democratic meeting I've ever attended," joked Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr. D-22 Scioto. "A member of the minority, I have to admit I'm enjoying it."

Kurfess attempted to downgrade the attacks. He said the main purpose of the workshop is to give legislators background information on taxation, welfare and education.

"Two small digressions are not going to overshadow the workshop," he said. "I think the over - all approach has a great deal of merit."

Kurfess flushed with anger Tuesday afternoon as Dr. George W. Thatcher, an economics professor at Miami University, verbally lashed at Rhodes' "Solutions for the Seventies" program.

Putting himself off the record as the ground rules laid down before the seminar began, Kurfess made two sarcastic remarks obviously intended for Thatcher.

"I feel his remarks," Thatcher said, "are completely unfair and add credence to the report that this seminar was planned to further Rhodes' program."

Kurfess, at a news conference later, said Thatcher attempted to use the seminar as a forum to voice personal opinions.

"I don't say that I disagree with everything he said," Kurfess added. "But 'Solutions for the Seventies' are not at issue here," he said. "We're not making policy decisions."

Kurfess left the session Tuesday morning for a trip to Columbus but returned by noon. He said he had not seen the governor.

Rhodes' program came under attack at the opening session Monday night by an economics professor from Ohio University. But it was Thatcher who tore into it heatedly. He called it "completely inadequate."

Torrential California Rains Bring State Of Emergency

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Days of drenching rain left California soaked from end to end today, bringing an official state of emergency and fear for the safety of 10 persons trapped by a flooding stream.

For the first time in history, the U.S. Weather Bureau said, every one of its California stations reported rain Tuesday.

As flood-stricken cities called for aid, Gov. Ronald Reagan signed a declaration of emergency enabling the state to release funds and seek federal money.

A 16-inch total downpour has hit the Ojai-San Luis Obispo area of west-central California, trapping six boys and four men in an isolated area of Los Padres National Forest. The men included a sheriff's deputy, a Navy chief petty officer and a U.S. Forest Service ranger who had tried to rescue the youths, who had gone on a weekend hike.

One man who had joined up with the group was rescued after he said he had been washed off a Navy tractor on which they had tried to cross rampaging Sespe Creek.

"Water was rising up over us," John Scott Eckersley, 28, said in Ojai Community Hospital. "One by one, we got numb from the cold and just slipped away."

"The chief was first to go. Finally, there were just two of us, the sheriff and me."

Standing atop the tractor with water up to their necks said Eckersley, "He fell back on me, and I went down a few times and hit my head but managed finally to get to the river bank."

Military and U.S. Forest Service helicopters were ready to fly into the area, about 30 miles north of Ojai, as soon as rain subsided.

Meanwhile, slackening rain was reported in the state.

Major concern centered on Valley rivers where levee breaks could flood rich farm lands. High flows were reported in the Sacramento, Cosumnes and Stanislaus rivers.

HHH Gives Light Speech

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, on his "first night out," called for a commitment to Israel and support for the Nixon administration.

Humphrey also cracked some political jokes Tuesday night before 250 Jewish leaders at a Jewish Welfare Fund dinner.

"This is my first night out," Humphrey said. "I haven't been a free man for a long time but I want you to know I'd rather be a captive."

"I was on my way to the White House but got detained," Humphrey added. "If I had to end up at the wrong place this is as good a place as any. I believe it since there isn't room at the other place."

Humphrey said he went to a Democratic governors' conference in Washington Monday and "a fellow outside was selling towels."

Walter Rase Elected To Head NFO

Walter Rase, Route 4, has been elected president of the Pickaway County National Farmer's Organization.

The 1968 election of the county NFO chapter were held Tuesday in the social room of St. Joseph Church.

Other officers are: Robert Shannon, Route 1, Ashville, vice president; Mrs. William Davis, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Carle, Route 2, treasurer; Donald Conrad, Route 1, New Holland, three year trustee; Wilbur Mast, Route 1, Ashville, two year trustee; Dale Gifford, Route 2, one year trustee; Raymond Hanawalt, Route 1, Williamsport, district director.

Mrs. Joseph Carle, Route 2, was appointed publicity chairman. Appointed to the membership committee were Robert Shannon, chairman; Charles McCray, Route 1, Ashville, Mrs. Tom Conrad, New Holland, Mrs. James Hastings, Route 3; Dale Gifford, Route 2.

THE refreshment chairman is Mrs. John Diffendal, Route 1, Williamsport.

Members of the meat bargaining committee are Joe Carle, Route 2; Don Lintner, Route 2; Wayne Morris, Route 1; Jeff McCray, Route 2, Ashville; James Hastings.

Dale Gifford, retiring president, installed the officers.

The newly installed president presided over the remainder of the meeting.

Initial plans were discussed for the Pickaway County NFO ham supper which will be held March 22 at Westfall High School. Main speaker of the supper program will be Ed Winner, information executive of the National Federation of Independent Business.

Tom Conrad, national NFO director from Ohio, was present at the meeting and explained the latest progress in the NFO program of collective bargaining for agriculture.

Muskie Takes To Hustings; Plan For '72?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie, lifting a page from the Nixon handbook of political campaigning, takes off today on a meat-and-potatoes banquet blitz he thinks could lead to the White House in 1972.

Speeches to the Democratic party faithful in Dallas and Fort Worth are the first stops on a tour that by March will have taken him to 12 states with time out for prestige-building visits to Japan and England.

The Maine Democrat and defeated 1968 vice presidential candidate says, of course, that he hasn't decided at this early stage whether to seek his party's presidential nomination in 1972.

But he admits interest in the idea and readily acknowledges that he'll be testing the winds and stashing away IOUs from local Democrats as he ranges from coast to coast.

"That is what Nixon did so much of—and so well—during the years the Republicans were out of office," Muskie told an interviewer.

"Whether there will be a personal payoff for me, as there was for him, I don't know. But I think the effort is worthwhile," he added.

Muskie sees his role as opening a dialogue between local Democrats and the national organization and giving party workers "the feeling that their efforts are recognized by the national leadership."

By taking the Nixon route, Muskie has definitely determined to make the banquet circuit his main platform, instead of the Senate floor. And he has some misgivings.

"I have decided to postpone for the moment at least strengthening my position in the Senate," he said. "In time I may regret that I put aside an opportunity to advance in the Senate."

"But if that is true, I may even regret having run for vice president," he added. "But I don't think so. I think that in this business you have to go where the fates take you—as long as you make progress."

Humphrey said he went to a Democratic governors' conference in Washington Monday and "a fellow outside was selling towels."

Car Robbed In Police Impounding Lot

Theft of auto parts valued at $90 was reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department by Milo Wise Wednesday.

Wise stated that a carburetor and air cleaner were removed from a 1969-model car parked in the police impounding lot at his garage on E. High St.

The act, committed sometime Tuesday night, appears to be the work of an experienced mechanic, according to Wise, who stated that the items were removed neatly and with the proper equipment.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — My 58th birthday is on the horizon, and already solicitous friends are inquiring if I plan to make a down payment on a wheel chair.

No, sir, not yet. No wheel chair—but I might consider investing in a sporty cane. A stout cane gives an appropriate air of dignity to a man who has reached the age where he acquires an authoritative touch of gray at his temples.

At 58 a fellow can use all the prestige symbols that will gain him respect, for at this time of life the best he can hope for is responsibility. He no longer has the strength to win widespread admiration for the spectacular energy with which he pursues his vices and bad habit.

"What's so wonderful about being 58?" a fellow in the office asked when the subject of my coming antiquity was discussed.

Well, now, that's a reasonable question and deserves a responsible answer.

Perhaps there isn't anything truly remarkable in being 58. To a man of 80 that is mere child's play.

Offhand, I can't recall a president who was inaugurated on his 58th birthday, or anyone who wrote an immortal sonnet, knocked a home run, scored a touchdown, or built a better mousetrap in this occasion in his career.

Yet, in a way, it is hardly fair to derogue one's 58th birthday. If it is not a major feat, it can still be accounted a minor achievement. There were a lot of people who were 57 last year who won't make it around the next lap of the track this year.

Frankly, I think that anyone who, at any age, by any means, manages to survive another 365 days in this perilous, accident-prone universe has done something meritorious, deserving of at least passing notice if not permanent accolade.

After 50, for some reason or other, the perils of life's obstacle course seem to grow more numerous. Therefore, the accomplishing of another year of existence, which a young person takes for granted, is to an older man truly wonderful and well worth praising. To him each new birthday is a marvelous milestone.

So it is that, with no mock humility, I feel entitled to reach around, pat my own back, and say to myself with a feeling of warm congratulation and a touch of sentimentality, "Well, you've done it again, old-timer. Want to try for one more?"

European Industry Safe

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The greatest "so what?" brouhaha in the contemporary world is the one set in motion by the Frenchman, Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber, who has been scaring people to death by theorizing that western Europe is about to sink to the level of becoming an American colony because of the invasion of France, West Germany, and Britain by U. S. businessmen.

The argument is that Europe won't be able to call its soul its own if Coca Cola continues to challenge wine as the national drink of France, or if IBM and Burroughs computers are favored by European industries, or if the Opel car, made by General Motors, jostles the Mercedes-Benz and the Volkswagen on the autobahns of Germany, or if the billboards on European highways reiterate translated slogans about putting the Esso tiger in local tanks. The theory of the worriers is crudely Marxian: they believe that economics controls politics.

Actually, it is the other way around; the politicians of a nation always have the last word provided they can carry their people with them. Economic penetration is a self-defeating thing if and when it reaches the point of arrogance; it is always subject to takeover by one means or another if it fails to respect the integrity of the culture in which it has chosen to operate.

Anyone who doubts this should do a little reading in American economic history. In the nineteenth century the U. S. had its own Populist equivalents of Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber who were always complaining about American subservience to British capital. The British were heavily involved in the Erie Railroad at one point, and in the Illinois Central at another. They counted on the now legendary J. Pierpont Morgan, whose Wall Street bank was actually an extension of the London banking firm of J. S. Morgan, to keep American railroads free of manipulation by such scoundrels as Jim Fisk and Jay Gould. J. P. Morgan did well by his British capitalists; he put his own men on various railroad directorates, and made the roads as profitable for British investors as the general state of American business would permit.

But did this lead to what would have amounted to a re-colonization of the United States by Great Britain? The whole history of American industrial development refutes the very idea. The existence of a London-financed railroad system in America provided what we today would call the infrastructure that permitted a thousand native businesses to grow up and prosper. In the end the British stake in American capitalism became relatively negligible. In fact, it was liquidated almost completely when Britain had to repatriate its capital during two world wars.

The nineteenth century American pattern will be repeated in Europe as the U.S.-owned computer and automobile and oil companies thrive. For the computers must be sold or leased to European concerns if IBM or Sperry Rand is to justify a continued outlay on overseas factories. European-owned banks and industrial companies would have no use for American computers at all if they didn't have thriving markets of their own to justify their purchase of IBM equipment.

The bogey of "economic colonization" dissolves when you consider that no one nation has the capital to dominate everything, everywhere. If the U.S., through its Esso, Texaco, and Phillips subsidiaries, has a good profit-making position in the European gasoline market, it is only because thousands of Europeans have become prosperous enough since World War II to own cars. This presupposes considerable European economic expansion that is native-owned either in whole or in part.

Servan-Schreiber says that American industry won't leave Europe, "where its conquests are continuing and its power is increasing." But if U.S. industry doesn't behave in Europe with becoming deference to native feelings, it will go the way of the American copper interests in Chile, which have been forced by the politicians to

'Diamond Mouth' Suspect Caught

ROME, Ga. (AP) — A diamond in the rough is one thing—but a diamond in the mouth?

Rome Detective Supt. John Barnett said it was the most unusual recovery of stolen property he has seen in 16 years of police work.

Detectives said a $1,300-diamond, stolen from a jewelry store Jan. 11, was recovered Monday with the help of a dentist. The diamond had been mounted by another dentist—at the request of his patient—between two front teeth.

The Calhoun, Ga., man, whose name was not released, said he purchased the diamond in a pool hall.

renegotiate the conditions of their local presence and now consider themselves lucky to retain a minority position in a mining world they used to dominate. In the very nature of politics the Servan-Schreiber argument reflects a groundless fear: a local government can always call the turn if a "foreigner's" business dealings threaten to become abusive.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I live in a small community and have been unable to find anyone in the range of three hundred miles to help me with my emotional problems. I am an alcoholic and know that I go on a binge when the pressures become too great.

A specialist in scientology wants to begin to treat me to save my marriage. I'm afraid to put myself in the hands of one who works during the day and is a mind specialist at night. Can you make any suggestions?

Mr. F. X. T., Nevada
Dear Mr. T.: The very first suggestion I can make to you is that you discuss your problem with your own doctor or your religious adviser and stay away from a self-styled specialist. There is nothing quite as dangerous as a person who, without training, digs into the emotional past of someone who is in emotional trouble.

About fifteen years ago, I was sufficiently intrigued with the noise that was then being made about the "science of dianetics" to visit their "school" and watch the students in action. A concentrated course was given in two weeks to anyone who would invest in it, to become a practitioner and use it as a livelihood.

Dianetics was the forerunner of scientology, both of which take advantage of the emotional fragility of people in need and add to their burdens by painfully extracting the money they might use in beneficial ways.

When one understands that it takes almost fifteen years of concentrated study to acquire an M.D. degree in psychiatry or a Ph.D. degree in psychology, it is easier to question the speedy mail order degrees.

Your marriage is too precious and your problem of alcoholism is too important to be tampered with by one who, in ignorance, can only deepen the problems and threaten the structure of your life.

Is there a special serum that now can save newborn infants with an Rh problem? I have been afraid to become pregnant again for fear of having trouble with the birth of this second child.

Mrs. G. E., Alabama
Dear Mrs. E.: Rh problems do not usually occur during the first pregnancy. Subsequent ones may be associated with complications, but there is no need for you to delay having another child if your physician allows it. Rh difficulties are now minimized by the number of protective methods. Even in severe cases, all of a newborn infant's blood can be removed and replaced with normal blood if an Rh factor threatens its health.

There is now a special anti-Rh antibody that counteracts Rh positive blood cells passing from the unborn child into the mother's blood circulation. The complicated technical details are too involved to be other than confusing. Suffice it to say that there is now great success in avoiding the complications of Rh blood problems.

Bar Vandalia Annexation Of Cox Airport

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Robert Martin granted a temporary restraining order Tuesday prohibiting the city of Vandalia from annexing the Dayton-owned Cox Municipal Airport.

Dayton officials oppose the annexation because the city could lose some tax money and because they do not want Vandalia officials to be in a position to impose regulations on the airport.

County commissioners have approved the annexation.

A hearing on a permanent injunction will be held after Vandalia officials file an answer to Dayton's injunction request.

Man Faces Charges After Ex-Wife Shot
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Harold Rudolph, charged with kidnapping and shooting with intent to kill his former wife, was arraigned in Garfield Heights Municipal Court Monday and ordered held on $25,000 bond on each charge.

Rudolph, 24, of Cuyahoga was transferred to Cuyahoga County Jail to await a preliminary hearing Jan. 28. He was arrested in Akron Friday after taking his former wife, Roberta Rembowski, 21, to a hospital there.

The Business World

By LISA CRONIN (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — In the rosy world of corporate annual reports, some companies never really have a bad year.

When the numbers tell a sad tale of declining earnings, the text explains that the company is "in a transition period" or has "suffered an interruption in its growth pattern."

The verbiage is simply a company putting its best foot forward, for while most concerns are more straightforward, almost all American companies today see the annual report as their most basic selling tool.

"The annual report used to be a document to satisfy the Securities and Exchange Commission, but now it is a marketing tool to reflect the image of the company—it's an identity package," said Herbert Haft, vice president of Kinney National Services, Inc.

The typical annual report today is inadequate for SEC purposes. The commission requires much more detailed information from those concerns obliged to file periodic statements.

The basic rule of annual reports appears to be the more prosperous the company, the flossier the report. Esquire, Inc., had a very good year in 1967 and told about it in a lavish four-color portfolio filled with artist's drawings of staff and products.

But in 1968, the company encountered "adverse market conditions in some areas" and wrote about its revenues and earnings decline in a simple report illustrated with black and white photography and bearing a black cover.

Using a more simple and obviously less expensive report "wasn't so much a question of all money as of psychological effect on the stockholders," said Stephen Bogardo, a vice president of Esquire, Inc. "An expensive report in a bad year might incur criticism—I try to put myself in the mind of a shareholder who has 100 or 200 shares."

The ultimate in annual reports may be in the offing. Some companies are considering putting the financial facts in a booklet that can be easily separated from the main body of the report. Then the report can be used without any figures at all.

State Buys Land To Build New Highway Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state has spent $2 million to buy more than 5,000 acres of property between Marysville and Bellefontaine as a site for the Highway Research Laboratory.

Now the Ohio Department of Highways must turn to the General Assembly for the $28 million it needs to establish the long-planned facility.

The research complex, a pet project of Gov. James A. Rhodes, is cosponsored by the highway department and Ohio State University's Transportation Research Agency. No federal funds are involved in the construction.

Research officials and legislators believe funds to complete the complex will come from a bond issue approved by voters last November.

Berger Hospital's deficit for 1958 was the lowest in the eight year history of the institution. The deficit amounted to $4,070.43.

John E. Miller, 82, a lifelong resident of Circleville, died at his home at 311 E. Union St. Mr. Miller was a carriage maker by trade.

John L. Hunsicker, well known Williamsport resident, died at the age of 76.

The Semester Weight Dance, sponsored by Everts Hi-Y club, was held at the school social room. According to rules, for every pound over ninety that a girl weighed, one cent was paid by her escort.

County school superintendents voted to sectionalize the county's basketball tournament. It was removed from Circleville Athletic club gymnasium when the tournament committee were unable to reach an agreement with club officials on the rental price for the gymnasium.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — My 58th birthday is on the horizon, and already solicitous friends are inquiring if I plan to make a down payment on a wheel chair.

No, sir, not yet. No wheel chair—but I might consider investing in a sporty cane. A stout cane gives an appropriate air of dignity to a man who has reached the age where he acquires an authoritative touch of gray at his temples.

At 58 a fellow can use all the prestige symbols that will gain him respect, for at this time of life the best he can hope for is responsibility. He no longer has the strength to win widespread admiration for the spectacular energy with which he pursues his vices and bad habits.

"What's so wonderful about being 58?" a fellow in the office asked when the subject of my coming antiquity was discussed.

Well, now, that's a reasonable question and deserves a responsible answer.

Perhaps there isn't anything truly remarkable in being 58. To a man of 80 that is mere child's play.

Offhand, I can't recall a president who was inaugurated on his 58th birthday, or anyone who wrote an immortal sonnet, knocked a home run, scored a touchdown, or built a better mousetrap in this occasion in his career.

Yet, in a way, it is hardly fair to deride one's 58th birthday. If it is not a major feat, it can still be accounted a minor achievement. There were a lot of people who were 57 last year who won't make it around the next lap of the track this year.

Frankly, I think that anyone who, at any age, by any means, manages to survive another 365 days in this perilous, accident-prone universe has done something meritorious, deserving of at least passing notice if not permanent accolade.

After 50, for some reason or other, the perils of life's obstacle course seem to grow more numerous. Therefore, the accomplishing of another year of existence, which a young person takes for granted, is to an older man truly wonderful and well worth praising. To him each new birthday is a marvelous milestone.

So it is that, with no mock humility, I feel entitled to reach around, pat my own back, and say to myself with a feeling of warm congratulation and a touch of sentimentality, "Well, you've done it again, old-timer. Want to try for one more?"

European Industry Safe

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The greatest "so what?" brouhaha in the contemporary world is the one set in motion by the Frenchman, Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber, who has been scolding people to death by theorizing that western Europe is about to sink to the level of becoming an American colony because of the invasion of France, West Germany, and Britain by U.S. businessmen.

The argument is that Europe won't be able to call its soul its own if Coca Cola continues to challenge wine as the national drink of France, or if IBM and Burroughs computers are favored by European industries, or if the Opel car, made by General Motors, jostles the Mercedes-Benz and the Volkswagen on the autobahns of Germany, or if the billboards on European highways reiterate translated slogans about putting the Esso tiger in local tanks. The theory of the worriers is crudely Marxian: they believe that economics controls politics. Actually, it is the other way around; the politicians of a nation always have the last word provided they can carry their people with them. Economic penetration is a self-defeating thing if and when it reaches the point of arrogance; it is always subject to take-over by one means or another if it fails to respect the integrity of the culture in which it has chosen to operate.

Anyone who doubts this should do a little reading in American economic history. In the nineteenth century the U.S. had its own Populist equivalents of Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber who were always complaining about American subservience to British capital. The British were heavily involved in the Erie Railroad at one point, and in the Illinois Central at another. They counted on the now legendary J. Pierpont Morgan, whose Wall Street bank was actually an extension of the London banking firm of J. S. Morgan, to keep American railroads free of manipulation by such scoundrels as Jim Fisk and Jay Gould. J. P. Morgan did well by his British capitalists; he put his own men on various railroad directorates, and made the roads as profitable for British investors as the general state of American business would permit.

But did this lead to what would have amounted to a re-colonization of the United States by Great Britain? The whole history of American industrial development refutes the very idea. The existence of a London-financed railroad system in America provided what we today would call the infrastructure that permitted a thousand native businesses to grow up and prosper. In the end the British stake in American capitalism became relatively negligible. In fact, it was liquidated almost completely when Britain had to repatriate its capital during two world wars.

The nineteenth century American pattern will be repeated in Europe as the U.S.-owned computer and automobile and oil companies thrive. For the computers must be sold or leased to European concerns if IBM or Sperry Rand is to justify a continued outlay on overseas factories. European-owned banks and industrial companies would have no use for American computers at all if they didn't have thriving markets of their own to justify their purchase of IBM equipment.

The bogey of "economic colonization" dissolves when you consider that no one nation has the capital to dominate everything, everywhere. If the U.S., through its Esso, Texaco, and Phillips subsidiaries, has a good profit-making position in the European gasoline market, it is only because thousands of Europeans have become prosperous enough since World War II to own cars. This presupposes considerable European economic expansion that is native-owned either in whole or in part.

Servan-Schreiber says that American industry won't leave Europe, "where its conquests are continuing and its power is increasing." But if U.S. industry doesn't behave in Europe with becoming deference to native feelings, it will go the way of the American copper interests in Chile, which have been forced by the politicians to

'Diamond Mouth' Suspect Caught

ROME, Ga. (AP) — A diamond in the rough is one thing—but a diamond in the mouth? Rome Detective Supt. John Barnett said it was the most unusual recovery of stolen property he has seen in 16 years of police work.

Detectives said a $1,300-diamond, stolen from a jewelry store Jan. 11, was recovered Monday with the help of a dentist. The diamond had been mounted by another dentist—at the request of his patient—between two front teeth.

The Calhoun, Ga., man, whose name was not released, said he purchased the diamond in a pool hall.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I live in a small community and have been unable to find anyone in the range of three hundred miles to help me with my emotional problems. I am an alcoholic and know that I go on a binge when the pressures become too great.

A specialist in scientology wants to begin to treat me to save my marriage. I'm afraid to put myself in the hands of one who works during the day and is a mind specialist at night. Can you make any suggestions?

Mr. F. K. T., Nevada

Dear Mr. T.: The very first suggestion I can make to you is that you discuss your problem with your own doctor or your religious adviser and stay away from a self-styled specialist. There is nothing quite as dangerous as a person who, without training, digs into the emotional past of someone who is in emotional trouble.

About fifteen years ago, I was sufficiently intrigued with the noise that was then being made about the "science of dietetics" to visit their "school" and watch the students in action. A concentrated course was given in two weeks to anyone who would invest in it, to become a practitioner and use it as a livelihood.

Dietetics was the forerunner of scientology, both of which take advantage of the emotional fragility of people in need and add to their burdens by painfully extracting the money they might use in beneficial ways.

When one understands that it takes almost fifteen years of concentrated study to acquire an M.D. degree in psychiatry or a Ph.D. degree in psychology, it is easier to question the speedy mail order degrees.

Your marriage is too precious and your problem of alcoholism is too important to be tampered with by one who, in ignorance, can only deepen the problems and threaten the structure of your life.

Is there a special serum that now can save newborn infants with an Rh problem? I have been afraid to become pregnant again for fear of having trouble with the birth of this second child.

Mrs. G. E., Alabama

Dear Mrs. E.: Rh problems do not usually occur during the first pregnancy. Subsequent ones may be associated with complications, but there is no need for you to delay having another child if your physician allows it. Rh difficulties are now minimized by the number of protective methods. Even in severe cases, all of a newborn infant's blood can be removed and replaced with normal blood if an Rh factor threatens its health.

There is now a special anti-Rh antibody that counteracts Rh positive blood cells passing from the unborn child into the mother's blood circulation. The complicated technical details are too involved to be other than confusing. Suffice it to say that there is now great success in avoiding the complications of Rh blood problems.

Bar Vandalia Annexation Of Cox Airport

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Robert Martin granted a temporary restraining order Tuesday prohibiting the city of Vandalia from annexing the Dayton-owned Cox Municipal Airport.

Dayton officials oppose the annexation because the city could lose some tax money and because they do not want Vandalia officials to be in a position to impose regulations on the airport.

County commissioners have approved the annexation.

A hearing on a permanent injunction will be held after Vandalia officials file an answer to Dayton's injunction request.

Happy Days

Still not sure she hasn't been dreaming is Elsie Whaley, Her son, Bob, called from Bangkok, Thailand, last Friday. He was there on five days rest and recreation from his Da Nang base. The call came through on reverse charges (how else?) to the home of Jim and Norma Cochenour, next door neighbors and good friends of the Whaleys. Bob's term in Vietnam will be over in June. Due to the International Date Line it was actually Saturday in Thailand.

Happiness knows no limit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCarty since they welcomed home their son, Gary McCarty, after being in Korea for over a year. Coming home last week for a 30 day leave, he is catching up on all the local news with his seven brothers and sisters eager to help.

Wee One

Welcome to our world, little David Christian Justice, born at 6:09 p.m. Sunday Jan. 19. Proud parents are Larry and Ginda Anderson Justice and eagerly awaiting to welcome him home is small brother, Michael.

Sick List

Missing from the pulpit of the United Methodist Church Sunday was Rev. Ed Linville, who had been "felled" by a virus. District lay leader, Mr. Tom Dupler of Lancaster, conducted Sunday services.

Still very ill at her home is Mrs. Paul (Elizabeth) Chester. We hope for complete recovery soon.

Also still quite ill is my across-the-alley neighbor, Mrs. Una Higman.

Ruth (Mrs. Francis) Snyder hoped to be back on the job today (Monday) at the Williamsport branch, First National Bank. Ruth had the flu bugs a couple weeks ago — returned to work — and suffered a "set back." Had been off again several days.

It was good to hear that Mrs.

Smith Hulse (one of the most gracious persons I know; is improving. She has been ill since before Thanksgiving.

"Bus" (Arthur) and Helen Whitten were both fighting the flu. Bus, associated with Horch's Market, was to return to work Monday and Helen, who is one of the capable cooks keeping Williamsport Elementary students well fed, hoped to be "stirring the soup" on Tuesday. Their son Carroll and his wife Sandy of Frankfort called on them Sunday. Their little ones, Sheri and Brad stayed with Uncle Bob and Aunt Betty Shaeffer, here in town, so they wouldn't catch "gran-ny" and "grampa's" flu.

Howard Draise, a local student at Jackson Jr. High, underwent an emergency appendectomy last Friday at Berger Hospital. The manager of the Jr. High basketball team, Howard was understandably blue to miss the tournament game, Saturday. His legal guardian, Mrs. Russell Newlon, expected him to be discharged Wednesday or Thursday.

We were cheered to see Esther Bartholomew getting about with the aid of her crutches. A retired Orient employee, she suffered a broken hip the latter part of August.

Happy Birthday

J. Fred McCoy, Jan. 25; Juanita Cook, Jan. 26; Janie Cottrill, Jan. 29; Tim Neff, Jan. 29; Diana Morrison, Jan. 30; Jeff Fullen, an. 30 and special greetings to Janet Sue Grabill, Jan. 24 who was our Little Miss Easterday Wedding Shop a few years ago.

It was happy birthday time for Mrs. W. D. (Maybelle) Heiskell, prominent local citizen, last Friday, Jan. 17 and helping her to celebrate was her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seever and her grandson Trippie of Delaware and her son and his family — Bill and Rita Heiskell and Debbie, Greg and Sharon of Circleville, who were hosts for a birthday dinner at their home. The Seever's remained with Mrs. Heiskell until Sunday afternoon.

His many local friends will be interested to know that Nick Morris, a former Naval Reserve, went on active duty the latter part of November and is stationed at Portsmouth, Va., aboard the U.S.S. Observation Island. He was on three day pass this weekend at his home in Kingston where his wife, the former Connie Barber resides. Sister Nancy and her husband, David Snyder and their Stephanie and Jeff visited them Saturday evening. Parents, Pete and Vivian Morris, long time Williamsport residents but now located in Columbus, were glad to have Nick home.

Weekend guests of Purl and Pearl Cochenour were her brother and his wife, Roy and Catherine Brayshaw of New Brighton, Pa. They also visited with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Brayshaw and on Sunday brother Jack Brayshaw and wife Patti and two sons Rick and Barry, local residents, had dinner with them all at the Cochenours. (They both really are Purl and Pearl but Purl (the he) is known to one and all as "Pete").

Plans Awry

In the words of the immortal Robert Burns "The best-laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft a'gley" and truer words could not fit the situation for Bill Hammond, who was rushed to the Fayette Memorial Hospital a week ago last Saturday and underwent an emergency appendectomy and all the while his bride to be, Sonya Lindsey became more nervous wondering about the plans for their wedding scheduled for Jan. 18. The groom made it down the aisle of the Mt. Sterling Methodist Church right on schedule at 2:30 p.m. Their plans and reservations at the Cove Haven Honeymoon resort at Lakeville, Pa., had to be cancelled, however. The newlyweds are at home on their recently purchased small farm located on White Road between New Holand and Washington C.H. Sister Sharon Hammond was one of the bridesmaids and brother Steve served as an usher. The handsome groom is a son of Lovell and Evelyn Hammond, residents on the Hornbeck-Garver Road and the lovely bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lindsey, Mt. Sterling. Among the guests were Evelyn's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kiger of Marysville, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Bauerle, good friends from London, Ohio who visited at the Hammond home after the wedding and Evelyn's mother, Mrs. D. F. Kiger of Webbville, Ky., who is spending the winter months here.

Good News

We join his legion of friends who hope for a speedy recovery for Gordon Rihl, discharged Sunday from Berger Hospital after being seriously ill with pneumonia and bronchitis. Wife Marvene says he will be confined to the house several days and of course, continues under his doctor's care. Keeping a watchful eye on him also is daughter Sue and on hand Sunday to welcome him home was his other daughter and her family — Rosemary and Neil McCalla and their four, Cheryl, Jeff, Lisa and Kelly of Frankfort. We just learned Gordon celebrated his birthday on Dec. 29 and we extend felicitations — (better late than never).

Sorosis Meets

The lovely country home of Mrs. Ray Valone was the Monday night meeting place for the local Sorosis Club. One of the points of business was the presentation of the officers slate for the coming year beginning in March. Elected were: President, Margene Looney; first vice president, Clarabelle Valentine; third vice president, Gertrude Schleich; treasurer, Margaret Sampson.

The office of secretary has been served faithfully and well for a number of years by Esta Tipton and since she has been so ill the nominating committee did not contact her but rather through a vote of acclamation had her installed once more as secretary.

The very talented and clever Clarabelle (Mrs. Charles) Rose instructed those present in the fascinating hobby of decoupage art. She had several finished pieces which were beautiful as well as a number of "raw" materials. It was one of our most interesting programs. Her daughter, Jean (Mrs. Cooke) Metzger concluded the program with a hilarious monologue, "How To Make A Speech" done in her inimitable style.

The next meeting has been changed from the home of Mrs. Glen (Bev) Whitten to the Methodist Church annex on Monday, February 17.

A speaker, not yet announced, will be a feature of the program and also there will be a formal installation of newly elected officers.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John (Edna) West, Mrs. Russel (Helen) McDill, Mrs. Archie (Bernice) Rawlinson, Mrs. Harry (Beryl) Stonerock.

PTA

Williamsport PTA will meet in regular session next Monday, Jan. 27 in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. It is our understanding there will be a speaker present to discuss the proposed tax levy for a new elementary school. We urge every one to attend and get the facts on this vital issue. Anyone familiar with the Williamsport school is aware of its deplorable conditions. While our family has not any children attending there, we have had and frankly during school days when the community fire siren sounded we prayed it wasn't the school and just as frankly we don't mind telling you when school was not in session and the siren sent forth its call, we prayed (or hoped anyway) it was the building.

Senior Citizens

We give recognition to two again this week which seems only fitting and proper since they are Mr. and Mrs. and have been for high on to 61 years. The marital knot was tied, Jan. 26, 1908, for Della Hickel and Omer Lemming. The scene was the bride's home and the official knot was tied by the Rev. Wilmer Fisher of the Methodist Church. Their children number four (2 girls, 2 boys) there are 10 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren (5 of these are adopted).

The Circleville Herald, Wed. Jan. 22, 1969 5
Circleville, Ohio

They farmed for several years on the Carl and Olive Hurst property until Mr. L. decided to return to his previous job with the Pennsylvania R. R. At this time they moved into the home they now occupy which was approximately 51 years ago. In 1952, Mr. L. retired from the railroad and has been busy as a bee ever since caring for their properties and maintaining a large garden during the growing season.

Mrs. Lemming is not one for idle hands either and most days finds her doing a very capable job of chair caning which is almost a lost art. Many folks who have had her cane chairs for them will happily recommend her work. She belongs to a number of local organizations and often entertains them in her home. On Saturday she and Mr. L. will go to Columbus (being taken there by a son) and remain overnight. Sunday a big family gathering will commemorate their day. Mr. L. was born Oct. 11, 1883 and Mrs. L., Sept. 13, 1889. Honest, decent, hard-working, God-fearing, good neighbors helps describe these two wonderful people and may other communities and our whole country be blessed with many more like them. We are indeed fortunate.

Having a long way to go before they celebrate 61 years but nevertheless just as important to them is the anniversary they will celebrate also, Sunday, Jan. 26 is our "couple up the street." Darrell and Glenna Wisecup.

Coed Becomes Taxi Driver To Finance Her Education

By SALLY WRIGHT

Cincinnati Enquirer Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — Pretty Bernice "Bebe" Hale has become a "cabbie" to finance her college education and her yellow jeep she drives in private life.

Passengers do a double take when they see the 21-year-old blonde behind the wheel.

"I was trying to think of a job that wouldn't take up my evenings, because that's when we do most of the work on production sets at school," she said.

The decision to become a cab driver?

"I was doing all this thinking—when I saw this cab coming down the street. I thought, why not? So I went down and applied for a job."

Bebe, a junior drama student at the University of Cincinnati, under rules of the taxi company must drive at least one four-hour period a week. She often works 30 hours a week.

Why her preference for jeeps?

"A jeep is much sturdier than a car. It won't give out on you."

Bebe says much of the cab driver's success is luck. "You have to get a lot of long trips to make any money — or a streak of generous people on short trips.

"Of course, you hear lots of problems, but it's never dull. Sometimes I have trouble with little old ladies. Little old men never say much, you know—but those little old women.

"Like they've been riding around the block for 50 years and if you don't go their way—well, it's just a big harangue until you get them where they're going."

What do the fares usually ask? Bebe reddened.

"They always want to know—what's a pretty girl like you doing with a job like this?"

Happy Days

Still not sure she hasn't been dreaming is Elsie Whaley. Her son, Bob, called from Bangkok, Thailand, last Friday. He was there on five days rest and recreation from his Da Nang base. The call came through on reverse charges (how else?) to the home of Jim and Norma Cochenour, next door neighbors and good friends of the Whaleys. Bob's term in Vietnam will be over in June. Due to the International Date Line it was actually Saturday in Thailand.

Happiness knows no limit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCarty since they welcomed home their son, Gary McCarty, after being in Korea for over a year. Coming home last week for a 30 day leave, he is catching up on all the local news with his seven brothers and sisters eager to help.

Woe One

Welcome to our world, little David Christian Justice, born at 6:09 p.m. Sunday Jan. 19. Proud parents are Larry and Ginda Anderson. Justice and eagerly awaiting to welcome him home is small brother, Michael.

Sick List

Missing from the pulpit of the United Methodist Church Sunday was Rev. Ed Linville, who had been "felled" by a virus. District lay leader, Mr. Tom Dupler of Lancaster, conducted Sunday services.

Still very ill at her home is Mrs. Paul (Elizabeth) Chester. We hope for complete recovery soon.

Also still quite ill is my across-the-alley neighbor, Mrs. Una Higman.

Ruth (Mrs. Francis) Snyder hoped to be back on the job today (Monday) at the Williamsport branch, First National Bank. Ruth had the flu bugs a couple weeks ago — returned to work — and suffered a "set back." Had been off again several days.

It was good to hear that Mrs.

Smith Hulse (one of the most gracious persons I know; is improving. She has been ill since before Thanksgiving.

"Bus" (Arthur) and Helen Whitten were both fighting the flu. Bus, associated with Horch's Market, was to return to work Monday and Helen, who is one of the capable cooks and keeping Williamsport Elementary students well fed, hoped to be "stirring the soup" on Tuesday. Their son Carroll and his wife Sandy of Frankfort called on them Sunday. Their little ones, Sheri and Brad stayed with Uncle Bob and Aunt Betty Shaeffer, here in town, so they wouldn't catch "gran-ny" and "grampa's" flu.

Howard Draize, a local student at Jackson Jr. High, underwent an emergency appendectomy last Friday at Berger Hospital. The manager of the Jr. High basketball team, Howard was understandably blue to miss the tournament game, Saturday. His legal guardian, Mrs. Russell Newlon, expected him to be discharged Wednesday or Thursday.

We were cheered to see Esther Bartholomew getting about with the aid of her crutches. A retired Orient employee, she suffered a broken hip the latter part of August.

Happy Birthday

J. Fred McCoy, Jan. 25; Juanita Cook, Jan. 26; Janice Cottrell, Jan. 29; Tim Neff, Jan. 29; Diana Morrison, Jan. 30; Jeff Fullen, an. 30 and special greetings to Janet Sue Grabill, Jan. 24 who was our Little Miss Easterday Wedding Shop a few years ago.

It was happy birthday time for Mrs. W. D. (Maybelle) Heiskell, prominent local citizen, last Friday, Jan. 17 and helping her to celebrate was her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seever and her grandson Trippie of Delaware and her son and his family — Bil and Rita Heiskell and Debbie, Greg and Sharon of Circleville, who were hosts for a birthday dinner at their home. The Seever remained with Mrs. Heiskell until Sunday afternoon.

His many local friends will be interested to know that Nick Morris, a former Naval Reserve, went on active duty the latter part of November and is stationed at Portsmouth, Va., aboard the U.S.S. Observation Island. He was on three day pass this weekend at his home in Kingston where his wife, the former Connie Barber resides. Sister Nancy and her husband, David Snyder and their Stephanie and Jeff visited them Saturday evening. Parents, Pete and Vivian Morris, long time Williamsport residents but now located in Columbus, were glad to have Nick home.

Weekend guests of Purl and Pearl Cochenour were her brother and his wife, Roy and Catherine Brayshaw of New Brighton, Pa. They also visited with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Brayshaw and on Sunday brother Jack Brayshaw and wife Patti and two sons Rick and Barry, local residents, had dinner with them all at the Cochenours. (They both really are Purl and Pearl but Purl (the he) is known to one and all as "Pete").

Plans Away

In the words of the immortal Robert Burns "The best-laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft a-gley" and truer words could not fit the situation for Bill Hammond, who was rushed to the Fayette Memorial Hospital a week ago last Saturday and underwent an emergency appendectomy and all the while his bride to be, Sonya Lindsey became more nervous wondering about the plans for their wedding scheduled for Jan. 18. The groom made it down the aisle of the Mt. Sterling Methodist Church right on schedule at 2:30 p.m. Their plans and reservations at the Cove Haven Honeymoon resort at Lakeville, Pa., had to be cancelled, however. The newlyweds are at home on their recently purchased small farm located on White Road between New Holland and Washington C.H. Sister Sharon Hammond was one of the bridesmaids and brother Steve served as an usher. The handsome groom is a son of Lovell and Evelyn Hammond, residents on the Hornbeck-Garver Road and the lovely bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lindsey, Mt. Sterling. Among the guests were Evelyn's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kiger of Marysville, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrick Bauerle, good friends from London, Ohio who visited at the Hammond home after the wedding and Evelyn's mother, Mrs. D. F. Kiger of Webbville, Ky., who is spending the winter months here.

Good News

We join his legion of friends who hope for a speedy recovery for Gordon Rihl, discharged Sunday from Berger Hospital after being seriously ill with pneumonia and bronchitis. Wife Marvene says he will be confined to the house several days and of course, continues under his doctor's care. Keeping a watchful eye on him also is daughter Sue and on hand Sunday to welcome him home was his other daughter and her family — Rosemary and Neil McCalla and their four, Cheryl, Jeff, Lisa and Kelly of Frankfort. We just learned Gordon celebrated his birthday on Dec. 29 and we extend felicitations — (better late than never).

Sorosis Meets

The lovely country home of Mrs. Ray Valone was the Monday night meeting place for the local Sorosis Club. One of the points of business was the presentation of the officers slate for the coming year beginning in March. Elected were: President, Margene Looney; first vice president, Clarabelle Valentine; third vice president, Gertrude Schleich; treasurer, Margaret Sampson.

The office of secretary has been served faithfully and well for a number of years by Esta Tipton and since she has been so ill the nominating committee did not contact her but rather through a vote of acclamation had her installed once more as secretary.

The very talented and clever Clarabelle (Mrs. Charles) Rose instructed those present in the fascinating hobby of decoupage art. She had several finished pieces which were beautiful as well as a number of "raw" materials. It was one of our most interesting programs. Her daughter, Jean (Mrs. Cooke) Metzger concluded the program with a hilarious monologue, "How To Make A Speech" done in her inimitable style.

Elizabeth Jane Barnhart Bride Of Vaughn French

MRS. VAUGHN L. FRENCH

Miss Elizabeth Jane Barnhart and Vaughn L. French were united in marriage 7:30 p.m. Jan. 18 in Community United Methodist Church. The Rev. Paul I. Wachs performed the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, 200 Northridge Road, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn J. French of Addison.

Miss Brenda Southward was organist and Mrs. R. E. Knecht, vocalist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie, styled with full skirt, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves ending in bridal points. A chapel length train flowed from the back of the waist. The neckline was accented with lace embroidered in crystals and pearls. Two bands of the same lace enhanced the front of the gown. The bride's veil of triple tiered illusion was held by a petite crown of crystals and pearls. She carried her own Rainbow Bible covered by a cascade bouquet of miniature spider pompon mums centered with a large white orchid.

Miss Sheryl Wood was maid of honor. She was attired in a floor length olive green sheath dress with full length sleeves and two toned green velvet ribbon around the empire waistline. Her flowing veil was of matching illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of green spider mums.

Serving as best man was Gary R. French, cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were John Barnhart, brother of the bride, Jim French and Clancy Tucker, cousins of the bridegroom and Charles Gearhart.

Mrs. Barnhart wore for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of Mediterranean blue with matching accessories. Mrs. French was attired in a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore green cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception in the social rooms of the church followed the ceremony. A five tiered wedding cake encircled with ferns and white chrysanthemums centered the bride's table, which was covered with an embroidered white cloth, skirted with floor length flounces of lace.

Hostesses were Miss Charlene French, sister of the bridegroom, of Springfield Karen Gearhart, Nancy Craig, Columbus and Mrs. Jack Kline. In charge of the guest book was Clara Garrett of Shiloh.

A buffet supper was held in the home of the bride's parents following the reception. Hostesses were Mrs. Willson Leist, Mrs. Ned Griner and Mrs. Ned Harden.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a camel hair suit and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple now resides in Apartment 1M, 31 S. Hamilton Road, Columbus.

The new Mrs. French is a graduate of Circleville High School and attended Ohio Wesleyan University where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. She is presently employed by the State Highway Department as a programming

Guild 38

Discusses

Bazaar Items

Ideas for bazaar items were discussed during the recent meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 38 in the home of Mrs. Charles Rihl, 1050 Sunshine St.

Mrs. Donald Ott, chairman, conducted the business session. She read a letter from the General Guild concerning the Lawn Fair. The guild voted to support this project planned for spring. Mrs. Ott announced the General Guild meeting will be 8 p.m. Jan. 30. Members were requested to bring items for the bazaar to the next meeting.

The traveling prize was won by Mrs. W. C. Shasteen.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Shasteen told of her Caribbean cruise aboard the SS Argentine, sailing from Port Everglade, Fla., to San Juan Puerto Rico, St. Thomas and the Virgin Islands.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 10 in the home of Mrs. John Roll, 1075 Lynwood Ave.

A dessert course was served by Mrs. Rihl and the co-hostess, Mrs. Tom Crawford.

Calvary WSCS Holds Meeting In Parsonage

Women's Society of Christian Service of Calvary United Methodist Church met Tuesday in the parsonage.

Mrs. G. H. Niswender presented the program entitled "The Now Prophets." Members assisted by reading the meaning of a Now Prophet and how to be one today.

Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, president, presided over the business session. Reports were received from committee chairmen. Mrs. Delores Wolfe requested that those who have finished reading the books on their list please make a report.

Mrs. Russell Archer reported on the Council of Church Women's meeting and stated that warm children's clothing is needed at the Clothing Center.

Mrs. Shasteen announced that the World Day of Prayer Service will be held 1:30 p.m. March 7 at the First Presbyterian Church.

Refreshments were served to 20 members and three guests by the hostesses, Mrs. Kathryn Adams and Mrs. G. H. Niswender.

survey technician.

Mr. French was graduated from Kyger High School, attended Rio Grange College and was a member of the U.S. Marine Corps for four years. He is employed by United Refrigeration of Columbus.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. French of Addison, grandparents of the bridegroom; others were from Norwalk, Mansfield, Addison, Dayton, Columbus and Springfield. Also attending was Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, grandmother of the bride.

KATHLEEN LARUE

Betty Crocker Homemaker Is Announced

Kathleen LaRue has been named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Amanda-Clearcreek School, on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude test on homemaking given to senior girls here Dec. 3. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack La Rue, Route 1, Stoutsville.

Kathy's achievement has made her eligible for state and national scholarships. She also has been awarded a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Kathy is an active member in many school activities. She is secretary-treasurer of the Honor Society, president of the Latin Club, president of band, vice-president of Chorus and pianist. Elizabeth Jane Barnhart Bride Of Vaughn French

Miss Elizabeth Jane Barnhart and Vaughn L. French were united in marriage 7:30 p.m. Jan. 18 in Community United Methodist Church. The Rev. Paul I. Wachs performed the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, 200 Northridge Road, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn J. French of Addison.

Miss Brenda Southward was organist and Mrs. R. E. Knecht, vocalist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie, styled with full skirt, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves ending in bridal points. A chapel length train flowed from the back of the waist. The neckline was accented with lace embroidered in crystals and pearls. Two bands of the same lace enhanced the front of the gown. The bride's veil of triple tiered illusion was held by a petite crown of crystals and pearls. She carried her own Rainbow Bible covered by a cascade bouquet of miniature spider pompon mums centered with a large white orchid.

Miss Sheryl Wood was maid of honor. She was attired in a floor length olive green sheath dress with full length sleeves and two toned green velvet ribbon around the empire waistline. Her flowing veil was of matching illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of green spider mums.

Serving as best man was Gary R. French, cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were John Barnhart, brother of the bride, Jim French and Clancy Tucker, cousins of the bridegroom and Charles Gearhart.

Mrs. Barnhart wore for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of Mediterranean blue with matching accessories. Mrs. French was attired in a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore green cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception in the social rooms of the church followed the ceremony. A five tiered wedding cake encircled with ferns and white chrysanthemums centered the bride's table, which was covered with an embroidered white cloth, skirted with floor length flounces of lace.

Hostesses were Miss Charlene French, sister of the bridegroom, of Springfield Karen Gearhart, Nancy Craig, Columbus and Mrs. Jack Kline. In charge of the guest book was Clara Garrett of Shiloh.

A buffet supper was held in the home of the bride's parents following the reception. Hostesses were Mrs. Willson Leist, Mrs. Ned Griner and Mrs. Ned Harden.

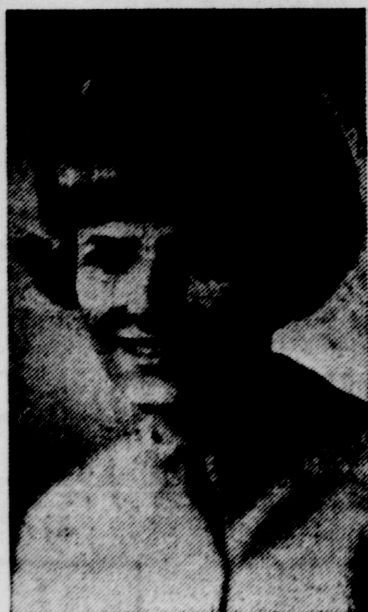

For her going-away costume the bride wore a camel hair suit and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple now resides in Apartment 1M, 31 S. Hamilton Road, Columbus.

The new Mrs. French is a graduate of Circleville High School and attended Ohio Wesleyan University where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. She is presently employed by the State Highway Department as a programming

Guild 38

Discusses

Bazaar Items

Ideas for bazaar items were discussed during the recent meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 38 in the home of Mrs. Charles Rihl, 1050 Sunshine St.

Mrs. Donald Ott, chairman, conducted the business session. She read a letter from the General Guild concerning the Lawn Fair. The guild voted to support this project planned for spring. Mrs. Ott announced the General Guild meeting will be 8 p.m. Jan. 30. Members were requested to bring items for the bazaar to the next meeting.

The traveling prize was won by Mrs. W. C. Shasteen.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Shasteen told of her Caribbean cruise aboard the SS Argentine, sailing from Port Everglade, Fla., to San Juan Puerto Rico, St. Thomas and the Virgin Islands.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 10 in the home of Mrs. John Roll, 1075 Lynwood Ave.

A dessert course was served by Mrs. Rihl and the co-hostess, Mrs. Tom Crawford.

Calvary WSCS Holds Meeting In Parsonage

Women's Society of Christian Service of Calvary United Methodist Church met Tuesday in the parsonage.

Mrs. G. H. Niswender presented the program entitled "The Now Prophets." Members assisted by reading the meaning of a Now Prophet and how to be one today.

Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, president, presided over the business session. Reports were received from committee chairmen. Mrs. Delores Wolfe requested that those who have finished reading the books on their list please make a report.

Mrs. Russell Archer reported on the Council of Church Women's meeting and stated that warm children's clothing is needed at the Clothing Center.

Mrs. Shasteen announced that the World Day of Prayer Service will be held 1:30 p.m. March 7 at the First Presbyterian Church.

Refreshments were served to 20 members and three guests by the hostesses, Mrs. Kathryn Adams and Mrs. G. H. Niswender.

survey technician.

Mr. French was graduated from Kyger High School, attended Rio Grange College and was a member of the U.S. Marine Corps for four years. He is employed by United Refrigeration of Columbus.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. French of Addison, grandparents of the bridegroom; others were from Norwalk, Mansfield, Addison, Dayton, Columbus and Springfield. Also attending was Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, grandmother of the bride.

KATHLEEN LARUE

Betty Crocker Homemaker Is Announced

Kathleen LaRue has been named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Amanda-Clearcreek School, on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude test on homemaking given to senior girls here Dec. 3. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack La Rue, Route 1, Stouts-ville.

Kathy's achievement has made her eligible for state and national scholarships. She also has been awarded a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Kathy is an active member in many school activities. She is secretary-treasurer of the Honor Society, president of the Latin Club, president of band, vice-president of Chorus and pianist, Future Homemakers of America, French Club and Future Teachers. Other activities include treasurer of the county Junior Leadership 4-H Club, secretary of Fairfield County Junior Fair Board, secretary of the Greenlight 4-H Club, president of Youth Fellowship and church pianist at St. John's United Methodist Church of Stouts-ville.

After graduation this June, she will enroll in Ohio State University, majoring in home economics.

A state Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected from the winners of the schools in the state. The state winner will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be awarded a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The runner-up will earn a $500 educational grant.

Round-Town Players Select Production

The fourth major production of the Round-Town Players has been selected. The choice was "Splendor In The Grass" by William Inge.

The romantic drama is set in the 1920's. The play, centered around a young girl and boy, discloses the unfortunate things which happen due to the times and their opposite family life.

The play is being directed by Carolyn Young, a member of the club.

Rehearsals have begun with production dates set for Feb. 21 and 22.

Pauline Cook, William Cook, Beverly Currence, Leona Reigel, Bonnie Rector and Kenneth Shepler, budget.

Mildred Younkin, Katherine Mead, Robert Liston and William Currence, examining; Gladys Shepler, Bonnie Rector, Betty Liston, Kenneth Shepler and Dwight Rector, instruction and special information; Katherine Mead, Marcellyn Evans and Carl Bennett, auditing.

Garnet Reichelderfer, Circleville and Mildred Younkin, Ashville, good cheer; Elaine Bowman, Joanne Pettit, Marie Bennett, Marilyn Younkin and Donna Foreman, program; Roger Bowers will continue his term as chapter representative to the Masonic Temple Board.

It was announced that the chapter will serve Masonic dinners on Jan. 25 and Feb. 8. Anyone able to assist is requested to contact Mrs. Hamilton.

The annual district school of instruction will be held Feb. 8 at the Circleville High School. Grand chapter officers will exemplify the ritualistic work and all members are invited to attend. Luncheon reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Betty Liston, Route 3.

Official visitation of Mary Elizabeth Radcliffe, district deputy grand matron, will be Feb. 25. A family carry-in dinner preceding the meeting is being planned.

During the social hour a birthday party for the chapter was held. Refreshments were served from a table carrying out the birthday theme, centered with a candlelit cake decorated with the emblem of the Order.

Observance of Obligation Night is planned for the next stated meeting, Jan. 28.

Dear Abby:

Old Bachelor Looks For A Bride

DEAR ABBY: Time has passed too fast. I am an old bachelor (now 70) but I'm in good health, have a nice home, automobile and my hobby is raising roses.

Sometimes I get a little lonesome for a female companionship (not sex, I'm all thru with that) and I'm wondering if maybe I shouldn't marry one of those old widows who has been after me.

I know I'm not perfect, but there always seems to be something wrong with the women I meet. Either they are looking for a meal ticket or they talk too much.

What do you think?

CONSIDERING DEAR CONSIDERING: Why not. But be sure you get a quiet woman who's not looking for a meal ticket, wants only male companionship, and is also "thru with sex," or you'll have a bigger problem than loneliness.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently had a lovely dinner party in our home. One of the couples asked us in advance if they could leave a little early because they'd left their child at home ill. Naturally we said yes.

Well, almost immediately after the dinner this couple put on their coats and made the rounds of all the guests saying goodnight. Needless to say, they broke up the party as others started leaving right after they did.

My husband said he didn't see anything wrong with their saying goodnight to everyone, that if they just sneaked off it would have shown worse manners. I think he is wrong and told him so. What do you think?

ELSIE DEAR ELSIE: I think guests who depart "early" should do so as inconspicuously as possible. (I also think your husband was probably glad to call it a night and get to bed himself.)

DEAR ABBY: I think your definition of "KARMA" needs to be clarified. It is not merely the calm acceptance of one's "destiny." It is the belief that whatever good or evil a person does during his present lifetime will be returned measure for measure in some future life. To make it more simple, "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."

Sincerely, A BELIEVER CONFIDENTIAL TO "TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN IN CLEVELAND": Your husband could be going thru the male counterpart of "change of life."

A man who has worked hard for 27 years, and has been a good husband and father, is not likely to go off the deep end permanently. Almost every man after 50 becomes a little worried about growing old, and losing his appeal. His ego needs a boost, and there is always that predatory female around, ready to flatter him and make him feel "young" again. He falls like a ton of teakwood; then the big thrill wears off and he comes trotting home to mama, feeling a little ashamed, but with a nice warm glow inside, knowing there is life in the old boy yet.

The smart wife doesn't put on an academy award scene. She swallows her pride, accepts a little "blame" for not being as affectionate and reassuring as she might have been. And above all, she never mentions it again and she tells NO ONE.

If the woman above is you, and the man is your husband, follow this advice, and your man will spend the rest of his life knocking himself out trying to make it up to you.

Saucers Rip Nets

POINT JUDITH, R.I. (AP) — Commercial fishermen say submerged saucers are tearing their nets to shreds. Capt. James Mello of the dragger Northern Lights says his crew spent more than 18 hours of a seven-day fishing trip mending nets torn by the four 300-pound discs he brought home. He said the discs, dredged up at 240 fathoms on the edge of the continental shelf, may have been used to seal the missile tubes of submarines.

The English Toy Spaniel probably first appeared in Spain. The Pekingese-like nose of the King Charles variety suggests that dogs from China and Japan were later bred in.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Of- ficial Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Mild weather prevailed over Ohio Tuesday night and was expected to continue today and Thursday. Early this morning, temperatures ranged from 35 at Zanesville to 42 at Cincinnati. Skies were cloudy and some patchy fog was reported in the northwest portion around Toledo and Findlay.

Skies will be mostly cloudy today and tonight with a chance of light rain or drizzle in the western sections spreading to the east later tonight. Lows for tonight will range from the upper 30s into the 40s.

A low pressure is developing in western Kansas and will be moving to Illinois by Thursday. Showers are likely in Ohio Thursday as this system approaches.

Colder weather is in store for the weekend following the passage of this low pressure.

FORECASTS

OHIO—Chance of light rain or drizzle western portions, spreading east tonight. Low tonight in upper 30s and 40s. Thursday cloudy and mild with showers likely.

NORTHWEST, SOUTHWEST OHIO — Considerable cloudiness tonight with scattered areas of drizzle or very light rain. Low in 40s. Thursday cloudy and warm with showers likely, high in upper 40s or lower 50s.

SOUTHWEST, CENTRAL, EAST, CENTRAL, NORTH-EAST OHIO — Cloudy tonight with chance of a little light rain or drizzle, low in upper 30s and lower 40s. Thursday cloudy and warm with showers likely, high in upper 40s or lower 50s.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average slightly above normal Thursday through Monday with highs in the upper 30s to mid 40s and lows mostly in the 20s. Precipitation will total one-half to three-quarters of an inch as occasional rain or showers through the weekend.

Cincy Workers

Resume Talks

On Wage Hikes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Negotiators for the city and its non-uniformed workers resumed discussions today on a subject that resulted in a strike last week and could do so again—wage increases.

The workers, about 1,800 represented by District Council 51 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, are seeking seven to nine per cent hikes.

This is the same boost granted to Cincinnati police and firemen, opposed to a six per cent wage increase rejected twice by the workers to bring on the strike lasting three days.

The workers voted Friday to go to work as part of an agreement providing fringe benefits and a clause to further wage negotiations.

PATROL CADET — Nicholas Polvinale of Lockbourne is in his second of 14 weeks of communications training at the Ohio State Patrol's Academy in Columbus. Polvinale is learning communications techniques.

Kay Biscayne, Fla., a virtually uninhabited island only 25 years ago, now is home for 3,000 year-round and 4,000 winter residents.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Had William Shakespeare been around 350 years later, knocking out material for what is known as "The media," it is very probable that his line about "sermons in stones" would have rolled out of his electric typewriter as "sermons in situation comedies."

By order of the television code, the lesson that "Crime doesn't pay" is implicit in every program involving crooks and the law. There also seems to be some unwritten rule about packing a neat little lesson in everyday living in among the laughs of our people—next-door comedies.

On a single night—Tuesday—viewers learned painlessly from "Julia" that pride must never be confused with self-righteousness, and, 30 minutes later, "The Doris Day show" was a demonstration about interfering parents.

All things considered, NBC's "Julia" and its helpful hints are considerably easier to take than CBS's homilies wrapped around the person of Miss Day. For one thing, the former is a wittier, more urbane half hour which, while hardly a realistic portrait of the home and office life of a registered nurse, still has plenty of spirit and that elusive quality called charm.

Miss Day can handle broad comedy with the best of them—she survived several undignified knocks in the seat of her tailored slacks and was thoroughly smeared with raw eggs in the most recent outing. But the series is beset by the kind of bucolic, tired stories that were predictable as far back as "The Donna Reed Show." It is further afflicted by a loud and misbegotten laugh track.

One of the great pluses of "Julia" is, on course, its forthright handling of Negro-white relationships. In the Tuesday night show, the attractive character played by Diahann Carroll encountered a touchy, militant football star obviously on the lookout for slights and put-downs. At the climax, Julia read the young man off, of course, and changed his life.

Somewhat Miss Carroll's winning ways and the persuasive writing permit what could be pretty sticky stuff to come off nicely. "Julia" week in and week out, remains a bright new series that really deserved its niche among the top 20 shows.

NBC's "Laugh-In" climbed back into first place in the most recent Nielsen ratings report, covering the period between Jan. 6-12.

Other entertainment shows in the top ten were, in the following order, NBC's "Bonanza," CBS's Gomer Pyle and "Beverly Hillsbillies," NBC's "Dragnet," CBS's "Gunsmoke," NBC's "Dean Martin Show," CBS's "Family Affair," NBC's "Ironside" and ABC's "Bewitched."

NBC led in the week, average ratings, pulling a 21.2, followed by CBS with 20.5, and ABC, 16.5.

Train Derails Near Bryan

BRYAN Ohio (AP) — Railroad crews worked through the night to clear tracks blocked Tuesday when 16 cars of an eastbound Penn Central freight train derailed on the west edge of Bryan.

No one was injured in the accident, the cause of which was not determined immediately.

The Williams County Sheriff's Office said the derailed cars blocked both of the railroad's main lines. About a quarter-mile of track was torn up.

42 Students Enroll For 'New Course'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Forty-two students have enrolled at Tallahassee Junior College for the fourth class of the Florida Inter-American Learning Institute.

Established under the Florida-Colombia alliance, FILI is designed to provide basic orientation in the English language and U.S. culture for students who plan to study in this country.

The 42 students are from Colombia, Mexico, Republica of China, Iran and Yugoslavia. The class is the first to include students from other than Latin American countries.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Had William Shakespeare been around 350 years later, knocking out material for what is known as "The media," it is very probable that his line about "sermons in stones" would have rolled out of his electric typewriter as "sermons in situation comedies."

By order of the television code, the lesson that "Crime doesn't pay" is implicit in every program involving crooks and the law. There also seems to be some unwritten rule about packing a neat little lesson in everyday living in among the laughs of our people—next-door comedies.

On a single night—Tuesday—viewers learned painlessly from "Julia" that pride must never be confused with self-righteousness, and, 30 minutes later, "The Doris Day show" was a demonstration about interfering parents.

All things considered, NBC's "Julia" and its helpful hints are considerably easier to take than CBS's homilies wrapped around the person of Miss Day. For one thing, the former is a wittier, more urbane half hour which, while hardly a realistic portrait of the home and office life of a registered nurse, still has plenty of spirit and that elusive quality called charm.

Miss Day can handle broad comedy with the best of them—she survived several undignified knocks in the seat of her tailored slacks and was thoroughly smeared with raw eggs in the most recent outing. But the series is beset by the kind of bucolic, tired stories that were predictable as far back as "The Donna Reed Show." It is further afflicted by a loud and misbegotten laugh track.

One of the great pluses of "Julia" is, on course, its forthright handling of Negro-white relationships. In the Tuesday night show, the attractive character played by Diahann Carroll encountered a touchy, militant football star obviously on the lookout for slights and put-downs. At the climax, Julia read the young man off, of course, and changed his life.

Somehow Miss Carroll's winning ways and the persuasive writing permit what could be pretty sticky stuff to come off nicely. "Julia" week in and week out, remains a bright new series that really deserved its niche among the top 20 shows.

NBC's "Laugh-In" climbed back into first place in the most recent Nielsen ratings report, covering the period between Jan. 6-12.

Other entertainment shows in the top ten were, in the following order, NBC's "Bonanza," CBS's Gomer Pyle and "Beverly Hillsbillies" NBC's "Dragnet," CBS's "Gunsmoke," NBC's "Dean Martin Show," CBS's "Family Affair," NBC's "Ironside" and ABC's "Bewitched."

NBC led in the week, average ratings, pulling a 21.2, followed by CBS with 20.5, and ABC, 16.5

Prisoner Freed Under New Law

CINCINNATI (AP) — A self-confessed bank robber from suburban Groesbeck has been freed from prison under Ohio's shock treatment law and placed on three-years probation.

Judge Gilbert Bettman of Hamilton County Common Pleas Court gave the order Tuesday to free Donald Hacker, 32, who admitted robbing the Groesbeck branch of the Provident Bank of $9,691 Aug. 18. Hacker had served more than 30 days of his sentence qualifying him for probation under the shock treatment law.

Dayton Resident Killed In Bangkok

BANGKOK (AP) — Gustav Ackerland III, 16, of Dayton, Ohio, fell from the eighth floor of a Bangkok apartment building Tuesday night and was killed.

The youth was one of three sons of a U. S. Army lieutenant colonel assigned to the Advance Research Project Agency in Bangkok. The family lived in the building.

McCarthy Retreats To Shadows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Far from the snow and cold of New Hampshire, where it all began a year ago, he drifts in a distant, puzzling way through the warmth and comfort of the U.S. Senate.

The quest is over, and Gen. McCarthy — ("He stood up and something happened") — shows no passion for resurrecting it. He cares more about his poetry. He continues to bewilder, frustrate, and even anger those who stood by him in one of the most sensational presidential campaigns in history.

A new President took office Monday. For Eugene Joseph McCarthy and his followers, the ceremony merely confirmed the impregnability of The System's windmills to one man's quixotic glance.

McCarthy's youthful legions have scattered across the nation, most of them to resume academic careers joyously dropped last year for The Cause. If bitterness and disillusionment, toward man or system, have supplanted in many the high hope that sustained them during even incredible months, countless others still flaunt like battle scars their faded blue and white daisies, their tattered bumper stickers.

But all of them have nothing left but the memory.

McCarthy has turned from them now. He makes no effort to acknowledge that the dream ever existed. He sent them his "Leave me alone now" message loud and clear, when he: —Supported Russell Long, who represents, to McCarthyites, the worst of the establishment, over Edward M. Kennedy in the contest for the assistant majority leadership of the Senate.

—Abruptly yielded to a war supporter, Sen. Gale McGee, his seat on the prestigious Foreign Relations Committee, a forum for the opposition to the Vietnam war that made him a presidential candidate in the first place. He then compounded the mystery. Free to choose any committee in the Senate, he opted for Government Operations, a committee distinctly of the second rank.

—Refused to become Richard

Nixon's ambassador to the United Nations, where he could have expanded the peace philosophy that rallied the young around him.

Moreover, McCarthy won't explain himself, to his followers or anyone else. He announced last fall, in an ostensibly serious moment, that "I will not be a candidate of my party for reelection to the Senate from the State of Minnesota in 1970. Nor will I seek the presidential nomination of the Democratic Party in 1972."

Did that mean he was dropping out of politics? Or that he might run under a new party banner?

"Oh, I just wanted to give you fellows something to think about," he beamed to reporters

Keep Rome Old?
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI warns against allowing Rome to become just another "modern beehive city."

The Pontiff told Rome's Mayor Rinaldo Santini in a private audience that they shared "a love for his magnificent city, old and modern, national and universal, temporal and spiritual."

who caught him in a Capitol corridor; he now refuses to grant press interviews.

Since the battle of Chicago, McCarthy, 52, has evidenced nothing but a desire to retreat from the limelight. He doesn't talk about the new politics any more.

Meanwhile, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey already has set up a transitional office and dropped happy hints that he may seek to return to the capital in 1970—in Gene McCarthy's Senate seat.

Mrs. Margaret Chambers of Athens called on her mother, Mrs. Virgie Higgins on Sunday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Troy McPherson on the birth of a new little granddaughter early this month. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry McPherson.

The community extends its sympathy to Mrs. Cora Puckett and other relatives of the loss of her husband, Lloyd, who passed away on Saturday night in Veteran's Hospital at Dayton. He suffered a stroke recently and was not able to get about, but Mrs. Puckett tells me he enjoyed receiving all the cards from his friends and it helped cheer him during his illness.

Belated birthday greetings to Mr. George Graham on his 85th birthday the past week.

BIG BEAR - FIRST & FINEST SUPERMARKET IN CIRCLEVILLE!

Mustangs Host Logan Elm, Circleville Basketball

The action is at Westfall this week — basketball action, that is.

On Friday the Mustangs host Logan Elm in a key Scioto Valley Conference game. Saturday, Circleville's scrambling Tigers invade the Westfall gymnasium.

Teays Valley travels to West Jefferson for a game in the Metropolitan League — a possible title decider — and is idle Saturday. Logan Elm hosts The Plains of Mt. Sterling Saturday.

Laurelville has a two game home-stand, hosting Hocking county rival Union Furnace Friday and Glouster Saturday.

THE Scioto Valley Conference picture is this ... Westfall is unbeaten, but will have Laurelville and Picketon remaining on the league schedule after Friday.

A Mustang victory almost assured the Paul Hoskins coached crew of the SVC basketball crown. Logan Elm has been beaten by Paint Valley, but the Friday game is the last in the conference for the Braves.

A win for Charles Pritchard's

team means no less than a share of the title, and possibly more should Westfall stumble in one of its last two league games.

Westfall would like to add the undisputed cage crown to its trophy case. The Mustangs have already won the football title, and will be odds-on favorites to win the baseball championship this spring.

Logan Elm has been in the SVC title picture more often than not. The past two years the Braves have shared the crown with Laurelville. Three years ago Westfall was the basketball champion.

Add to this picture the fact that an intense rivalry exists between the two county teams and here are all the makings of an outstanding basketball game.

THERE will undoubtedly be a capacity crowd on hand for the game. And the scene should be little different Saturday.

Although the game Saturday is only a matter of "pride," both Circleville and Westfall will want to win. Tiger cage fans feel the current edition of the Circleville basketball team is better than its 3-9 record.

Coach Garold Sowders explains the fourth quarter relapses suffered by his charges as a "losing habit."

"The kids have had to come from behind so much they don't know that you play a different kind of ball when you're ahead," Sowder notes. The Tigers will be out to avenge a 79-60 loss to Westfall earlier in the year.

Bob Hoover's Teays Valley

Vikings can give him a Metropolitan League title in his first year as varsity coach Friday.

The Vikings and West Jefferson are tied with 4-1 league records. The Roughriders won the first game, 66-60, but Hoover feels the Vikings will win this time around.

"OUR press will work better on their little floor than it does here," Hoover says. If Teays Valley wins, they need only to split in games with Franklin Heights and Dublin, both easy victims of the Vikings in the first round of league play.

Saturday Logan Elm hosts The Plains, a team that won 85-84 in overtime on their home floor in the fifth game of the season.

The home floor advantage will be to the Braves this time.

No official basketball title is at stake Friday when the Wildcats host Union Furnace. However, Union Furnace is the only other class A School in Hocking county, and a mythical championship rides on the outcome of the battle. The first time the two teams played this season, Laurelville won, 78-71.

Two wins for the Laurelville squad this weekend will give them an 8-8 season.

The Braves have a 7-5 record on the season. Westfall is 9-2.

LOGAN Elm has scored a total of 840 in 12 games, an average of 70 per tilt. They have given up 812 points, an average of 67.6.

Westfall is averaging 74 points a game with 814 markers in 11 tilts. The Mustangs have given up 675 points, an average of 61 a game.

Logan Elm has a double-barreled attack in guard Danny Fausnaugh and Royce Woolever, both averaging 17.6. Woolever, a 6-foot 9-inch giant, helps control the rebounding for the Braves, but has a tendency to get in foul trouble.

Other probable starters on the Logan Elm squad for Friday are Dan Ankrom, a junior forward averaging just under ten points a game, Dennis Karshner, a senior forward with a 12.5 scoring average, and D. J. Humphrey, a junior guard with a 7.7 scoring average.

The Braves are most effective when they can get the ball inside to Woolever or Karshner. Westfall has a balanced attack with four of the five starters averaging in double figures.

GREG Bigam paces the Mustang offense with a 20.7 points per game average. Bill Blair is averaging 15.8 points a game. Both are juniors.

Tony Lightle, the three year veteran on the squad, is scoring at a 15 point clip and Gene

Carrey just over ten points game. The sixth man is defense specialist Bob Barnes, who usually draws the assignment of guarding the best offensive player on the opposition. In the first game between Westfall and Logan Elm, he held Fausnaugh to six points.

Westfall will use a tight man to man defense. Logan Elm will go with a zone as long as Woolever is in the game, although Pritchard switches to man to man when the big center is on the bench.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Wed Jan. 22, 1969 15
Circleville, Ohio

ADELBERT GRIDDER — Alan Gabriel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gabriel, Route 1, was awarded a varsity letter in football at Adelbert College of Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. A graduate of Logan Elm High School, Gabriel earned his second varsity grid letter playing as a regular defensive tackle. At 5-10, 195 pounds, the sophomore is quite agile and is expected to improve with more collegiate experience. He is well on his way to becoming a teacher and coach, his ambitions, according to Adelbert College football coach Ed Lewis.

Casey Stengel's Interview Proves He's In Good Form

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — The doctor gave strict orders. The news conference was to last 15 minutes. No more.

Thirty minutes went by and the old boy still was going strong. It took hospital attaches a little more than oral persuasion to end it and get him out of the room.

Casey Stengel, it may be reported today, is back in excellent health.

He also was back in his handsome home in Glendale. The switchboard at Glendale Memorial Hospital and its mail room can rest easier.

"Calls, calls and a huge bundle of mail every day. But Mr. Stengel is such a wonderful man. Amazing," said Elaine Beers, the hospital's public relations director.

Stengel, who believes his 78 years, underwent recent surgery for closure of a perforated ulcer. While never in serious condition, he was placed in the intensive care ward because of his age. This was a galling situation.

Nurses insisted he appear at this news gathering in gown and robe. Casey argued. He wanted to don street clothes.

"People will get the idea I'm sick if I go down there in my nightgown," said Casey. The nurses won out.

Night shirt or whatever, Casey erased any doubts as to his physical and verbal shape.

Interviewers asked relatively few questions. The reason was simple. Casey didn't give anyone much time to ask a question. It was Stengelesque at its finest.

An executive with the New York baseball Mets, the club's first manager 10 years ago, portions of Casey's lengthy, seldom interrupted remarks involved the team.

"The Mets never had a Hall of Fame player until I got in but Seaver Seaver is a fine pitcher which if he hasn't had a winning season yet he will have this year, meaning he'll win more than he loses, and Hodges was a great first baseman who could move his foot quick off the bag and he's a good teacher for our young ball players ... and those New York Mets, terrific." Get the idea?

"Return to the dead baseball? Well, if I was managing" which I did for many years it would depend on the type of ball club I had and the condition of the playin' field like the wet up in San Francisco and it was hard at Dodger Stadium ..."

Cincinnati rallied for a 113-107 overtime triumph over San Francisco on the West Coast in the other game.

In the only American Basketball Association game Minnesota dropped the New York Nets 113-104 in Duluth, Minn.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul Brown is awaiting word from Cleveland Browns President Art Modell as to whether the Browns will play the Cincinnati Bengals in a pre-season game in 1970.

Brown, coach and general manager of the Bengals of the American Football League, sent a telegram to Modell Tuesday seeking a contest when the Bengals open play in the city's riverfront stadium.

"Gov. James Rhodes has brought this to my attention on several occasions and I heartily agree," Brown said in the telegram. "We would like to hope that it would be the beginning of a long-time pre-season relationship between our teams."

Browns' General Manager Harold Sauerbrei acknowledged receipt of the telegram, but said Modell was in Washington and would not return until today.

"I'm sure Paul Brown's idea will be met with enthusiasm," Sauerbrei said. "Modell already has explored with Rhodes the possibility of a Browns-Bengals game in Columbus in the pre-season."

Brown founded the Cleveland Browns in 1946 and coached them through 1962.

Wins 1,000th Race YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Lucien Fontaine, 28-year-old native of Pontois Aux Trembles, Quebec, joined harness racing's 1,000 victory club when he drove Armbrist Instant home first in the third race at Yonkers Raceway Tuesday night.

None of the top 20 teams in The Associated Press rankings saw action on a dull Tuesday night. In the few major games, Northwestern beat Michigan 100-85, Holy Cross trounced Dartmouth 86-62 and Marshall edged Chicago Loyola 78-76. All were home court triumphs.

more year. Louisiana State, in the Southeastern Conference, does list assists in its all-time varsity records. Rich Lupcho holds the single game mark of 13, set against Florida State. Pistol Pete Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, also holds the LSU single season assist mark of 105 set last year.

The SEC also keeps conference records in assists. So far this season Bill Hann of Tennessee leads with an average of 6.0 to Maravich's 5.2. Wally Tinker of Auburn has a 4.5 average, Mike Casey of Kentucky 4.1 and Tom Hagan of Vanderbilt 3.4.

Knicks Win, But Cazzie Russell Hurt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Baltimore and Los Angeles easily padded their division leads, but the New York Knicks established themselves as the hottest team in the National Basketball Association—and the hurtingest.

The Knicks made it 17 victories in 19 outings with a 113-106 decision over the less than super Seattle SuperSonics, but the triumph was a painful one. The Knicks lost scoring star Cazzie Russell, their second casualty in the last five games.

Russell suffered a broken ankle at the end of the third period in a scramble for a loose ball and will be in a cast from six to eight weeks. Phil Jackson, a reserve forward, was lost last week to a back injury.

Russell had 18 points and the Knicks had a 88-82 lead before he left, and went on to score their 13th consecutive home court victory behind Willis Reed's 27 points. Len Wilkens had 31 points for Seattle, which has lost 18 of 20.

Baltimore, meanwhile, breezed past the host Chicago Bulls 116-93 for a four-game lead in the Eastern Division, and visiting Los Angeles crushed Milwaukee 122-105 for a three-game bulge in the West as second-place Atlanta lost at San Diego 124-113.

Cincinnati rallied for a 113-107 overtime triumph over San Francisco on the West Coast in the other game.

In the only American Basketball Association game Minnesota dropped the New York Nets 113-104 in Duluth, Minn.

Wrestlers Win Again

The Circleville wrestling team edged Whetstone, 21-20, Tuesday in a dual meet at Whetstone.

The hosts led, 20-16 going into the final match, but Tiger heavyweight Jack Boyer came through with a pin to give CHS its eighth win of the season.

The Red and Black grapplers are undefeated in triangular and dual meets, although they finished last in the eight team Worthington Invitational Tournament.

Boyers, who pinned Kerr in the second period of the heavyweight match, has a 10-1 record for the season.

CIRCLEVILLE wrestlers got off to a slow start. Mike Fuiler lost to Nespeca of Whetstone, 6-3. But Randy Martin won by forfeit in the 112-pound class.

Mike Smith lost to Kasnersky, 3-2, in the 120-pound class. Kasnersky has an 11-1 record.

Jack Robinson lost to hatch, 2-0 in the 127-pound class. Doyle Kiser was defeated by Halup, 5-0, in 133-pound competition.

Up to this point, the only win for Circleville was by forfeit because Whetstone had no 112-pound individual.

Dezi Gentzel beat Lynsky, 8-6 in the 138 pound class. Then Craig Dresbach was edged by Bylee, 8-7, in the 145-pound class.

Tiger Junior High Wins

The unbeaten Circleville junior high basketball team handled Ashville, 44-21, Tuesday in a game played in the Mill St. gymnasium.

The little Tigers led 14-4 at the end of the first quarter, 24-10 at halftime and 34-16 going into the third period.

Dave Truex led all scorers with 19 points, playing only half of the game. Circleville Coach Darrell Young substituted freely in the second half and none of his starters saw much more than two quarters of action.

"Our fast break was working and we beat their press," Young noted.

The next game for the Circleville junior high eagles is Jan. 28 at Lancaster Ewing.

Mustangs Host Logan Elm, Circleville Basketballers

The action is at Westfall this week — basketball action, that is.

On Friday the Mustangs host Logan Elm in a key Scioto Valley Conference game. Saturday, Circleville's scrambling Tigers invade the Westfall gymnasium.

Teays Valley travels to West Jefferson for a cage game in the Metropolitan League — a possible title decider — and is idle Saturday. Logan Elm hosts The Plains of Mt. Sterling Saturday.

Laurelville has a two game home-stand, hosting Hocking county rival Union Furnace Friday and Glouster Saturday.

THE Scioto Valley Conference picture is this ... Westfall is unbeaten, but will have Laurelville and Piketon remaining on the league schedule after Friday.

A Mustang victory almost assured the Paul Hoskins coached crew of the SVC basketball crown. Logan Elm has been beaten by Paint Valley, but the Friday game is the last in the conference for the Braves.

A win for Charles Pritchard's

team means no less than a share of the title, and possibly more should Westfall stumble in one of its last two league games.

Westfall would like to add the undisputed cage crown to its trophy case. The Mustangs have already won the football title, and will be odds-on favorites to win the baseball championship this spring.

Logan Elm has been in the SVC title picture more often than not. The past two years the Braves have shared the crown with Laurelville. Three years ago Westfall was the basketball champion.

Add to this picture the fact that an intense rivalry exists between the two county teams and here are all the makings of an outstanding basketball game.

THERE will undoubtedly be a capacity crowd on hand for the game. And the scene should be little different Saturday.

Although the game Saturday is only a matter of "pride," both Circleville and Westfall will want to win. Tiger cage fans feel the current edition of the Circleville basketball team is better than its 3-9 record.

Coach Garold Sowders explains the fourth quarter relapses suffered by his charges as a "losing habit."

"The kids have had to come from behind so much they don't know that you play a different kind of ball when you're ahead," Sowder notes. The Tigers will be out to avenge a 79-60 loss to Westfall earlier in the year.

Bob Hoover's Teays Valley

Vikings can give him a Metropolitan League title in his first year as varsity coach Friday.

The Vikings and West Jefferson are tied with 4-1 league records. The Roughriders won the first game, 66-60, but Hoover feels the Vikings will win this time around.

"OUR press will work better on their little floor than it does here," Hoover says. If Teays Valley wins, they need only to split in games with Franklin Heights and Dublin, both easy victims of the Vikings in the first round of league play.

Saturday Logan Elm hosts The Plains, a team that won 85-84 in overtime on their home floor in the fifth game of the season.

The home floor advantage will be to the Braves this time.

No official basketball title is at stake Friday when the Wildcats host Union Furnace. However, Union Furnace is the only other class A School in Hocking county, and a mythical championship rides on the outcome of the battle. The first time the two teams played this season, Laurelville won, 78-71.

Two wins for the Laurelville squad this weekend will give them an 8-8 season.

The Braves have a 7-5 record on the season. Westfall is 9-2.

LOGAN Elm has scored a total of 840 in 12 games, an average of 70 per tilt. They have given up 812 points, an average of 67.6.

Westfall is averaging 74 points a game with 814 markers in 11 tilts. The Mustangs have given up 675 points, an average of 61 a game.

Logan Elm has a double-barreled attack in guard Danny Fausnaugh and Royce Woolever, both averaging 17.6. Woolever, a 6-foot 9-inch giant, helps control the rebounding for the Braves, but has a tendency to get in foul trouble.

Other probable starters on the Logan Elm squad for Friday are Dan Ankrom, a junior forward averaging just under ten points a game, Dennis Karshner, a senior forward with a 12.5 scoring average, and D. J. Humphrey, a junior guard with a 7.7 scoring average.

The Braves are most effective when they can get the ball inside to Woolever or Karshner.

Westfall has a balanced attack with four of the five starters averaging in double figures.

GREG Bigam paces the Mustang offense with a 20.7 points per game average. Bill Blair is averaging 15.6 points a game. Both are juniors.

Tony Lightle, the three year veteran on the squad, is scoring at a 15 point clip and Gene Carfrey just over ten points a game.

The sixth man is defensive specialist Bob Barnes, who usually draws the assignment of guarding the best offensive player on the opposition. In the first game between Westfall and Logan Elm, he held Fausnaugh to six points.

Westfall will use a tight man to man defense. Logan Elm will go with a zone as long as Woolever is in the game, although Pritchard switches to man to man when the big center is on the bench.

Casey Stengel's Interview Proves He's In Good Form

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — The doctor gave strict orders. The news conference was to last 15 minutes. No more.

Thirty minutes went by and the old boy still was going strong. It took hospital attaches a little more than oral persuasion to end it and get him out of the room.

Casey Stengel, it may be reported today, is back in excellent health.

He also was back in his handsome home in Glendale.

The switchboard at Glendale Memorial Hospital and its mail room can rest easier.

"Calls, calls and a huge bundle of mail every day. But Mr. Stengel is such a wonderful man. Amazing," said Elaine Beers, the hospital's public relations director.

Stengel, who believes his 78 years, underwent recent surgery for closure of a perforated ulcer. While never in serious condition, he was placed in the intensive care ward because of his age. This was a galling situation.

Nurses insisted he appear at this news gathering in gown and robe. Casey argued. He wanted to don street clothes.

"People will get the idea I'm sick if I go down there in my nightgown," said Casey. The nurses won out.

Night shirt or whatever, Casey erased any doubts as to his physical and verbal shape.

Interviewers asked relatively few questions. The reason was simple. Casey didn't give any one much time to ask a question. It was Stengelese at its finest.

An executive with the New York baseball Mets, the club's first manager 10 years ago, portions of Casey's lengthy, seldom interrupted remarks involved the team.

The Knicks made it 17 victories in 19 outings with a 113-106 decision over the less than super Seattle SuperSonics, but the triumph was a painful one. The Knicks lost scoring star Cazzie Russell, their second casualty in the last five games.

Russell suffered a broken ankle at the end of the third period in a scramble for a loose ball and will be in a cast from six to eight weeks. Phil Jackson, a reserve forward, was lost last week to a back injury.

Russell had 18 points and the Knicks had a 88-82 lead before he left, and went on to score their 13th consecutive home court victory behind Willis Reed's 27 points. Len Wilkens had 31 points for Seattle, which has lost 18 of 20.

Baltimore, meanwhile, breezed past the host Chicago Bulls 116-93 for a four-game lead in the Eastern Division, and visiting Los Angeles crushed Milwaukee 122-105 for a three-game bulge in the West as second-place Atlanta lost at San Diego 124-113.

Cincinnati rallied for a 113-107 overtime triumph over San Francisco on the West Coast in the other game.

In the only American Basketball Association game Minnesota dropped the New York Nets 113-104 in Duluth, Minn.

Doug Moore beat Renick, 4-0 in the 154-pound class and Mark Ralston pinned Caplin in the third period of the 165-pound class to give Circleville a slight 16-15 edge in overall scoring.

STEVE Lingo was pinned by Jenkins in the second period of the 175-pound class, putting the hosts up by four points and Boyer got the needed pin in the final match.

Circleville also won a reserve event. Doug Good won the 112-pound class by a pin, Mark Ebert beat his 120-pound opponent, 2-0; Jerry Huston won the 127-pound competition, 5-2; Richard Campbell won the 133-pound class, 2-1; Jeff Wise won the 154-pound class, 6-4; Bill Seum and Bruce Francis won the 175 and the heavyweight matches by pins.

The next competition for the winners is Saturday in the Groveport tournament. Other teams in the tournament include Buckeye Valley, Waterson, Bexley, Groveport, Central, Grove City.

Watterson, Bexley and Central will provide particularly tough competition in the event according to Brent Bell, the Circleville wrestling team coach.

Browns May Play Bengals Pre-Season

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul Brown is awaiting word from Cleveland Browns President Art Modell as to whether the Browns will play the Cincinnati Bengals in a pre-season game in 1970.

Brown, coach and general manager of the Bengals of the American Football League, sent a telegram to Modell Tuesday seeking a contest when the Bengals open play in the city's riverfront stadium.

"Gov. James Rhodes has brought this to my attention on several occasions and I heartily agree," Brown said in the telegram. "We would like to hope that it would be the beginning of a long-time pre-season relationship between our teams."

Browns' General Manager Harold Sauerbrei acknowledged receipt of the telegram, but said Modell was in Washington and would not return until today.

"I'm sure Paul Brown's idea will be met with enthusiasm," Sauerbrei said. "Modell already has explored with Rhodes the possibility of a Browns-Bengals game in Columbus in the pre-season."

Brown founded the Cleveland Browns in 1946 and coached them through 1962.

Lew Alcindor Piles Up New Records

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

There ought to be a law, or something, to give full credit to the players who hand out assists in college basketball.

No national record for assists is listed in the NCAA basketball guide and only a few individual school brochures give such tabulation.

This absence of recognition for those excel in passing off was emphasized today, surprisingly by the records All-American Lew Alcindor has piled up for the mighty UCLA Bruins, the No. 1 collegiate team.

The agile 7-foot-2 star now holds every UCLA record except one. No record of assists is given, however.

These are the UCLA records Alcindor has set:

Most points in a single game — 61. Most points in a single season — 870. Most points during UCLA career — 1,908. Most points in a Pacific-8 Conference season — 384. Most points for three Pacific-8 Conference season — 798. Most rebounds in one season — 466. Most rebounds during UCLA career — 1,102. Most free throws attempted in one season — 274.

Alcindor still has to break the UCLA single-game rebound record of 28 set by Willie Naulls in 1966 against Arizona State. The most Alcindor has so far in one game is 24 in 1967, his sophomore year.

Louisiana State, in the Southeastern Conference, does list assists in its all-time varsity records. Rich Lupcho holds the single game make of 13, set against Florida State. Pistol Pete Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, also holds the LSU single season assist mark of 105 set last year.

The SEC also keeps conference records in assists. So far this season Bill Hann of Tennessee leads with an average of 6.0 to Maravich's 5.2. Willie Tinker of Auburn has a 4.5 average, Mike Casey of Kentucky 4.1 and Tom Hagan of Vanderbilt 3.4.

Kentucky's school records list Larry Conley as holding the single season assist mark of 112 in 27 games in 1964. No single game mark is listed.

Ricky Ray of West Virginia handed out 13 assists in one game, against Syracuse in Feb. 1964, for a Mountaineer home court record. West Virginia's assist record on the road is held by Ron Williams with 15 against Davidson at Charlotte in March, 1967.

None of the top 20 teams in The Associated Press rankings saw action on a dull Tuesday night. In the few major games, Northwestern beat Michigan 100-85, Holy Cross trounced Dartmouth 86-62 and Marshall edged Chicago Loyola 78-76. All were home court triumphs.

Bill Mallory Miami Coach

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—William Mallory, 33, a defensive coach at Ohio State University, was named Tuesday to be head football coach at Miami University.

He succeeds Bo Schembechler, who resigned to become head football coach at the University of Michigan.

Mallory is a native of Hillsboro, Ohio, and is a graduate of Miami.

He has been at Ohio State for the last three years and prior to that was an assistant at Bowling Green State University and at Yale. At Yale, he was an aide to Carmen Cozza, also a Miami graduate.

He played his football at Miami under both Ara Parseghian, now head coach at Notre Dame, and Johnny Pont, now head coach at Indiana University.

Cincinnati Must Pay Reds $2.5 Million

CINCINNATI (AP)—The city will have to pay the Cincinnati Reds about $2.5 million for Crosley Field as that is what a jury deems the value of the 57-year-old park.

The jury in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court was impaneled recently and held hearings for seven days to arrive at the worth of the property.

The city had previously consented to pay the Reds $2 million for the field if they would play their games in the riverfront sports stadium upon its completion.

The Reds were seeking about $3.5 million for the park.

Remember our little feathered friends this winter...

HEAVY SNOWS HALT THE FOOD SUPPLY AND MANY DIE. BUILD A BIRD FEEDER, IN THE BACKYARD, OR ON THE WINDOW SILL. PLACE THE BIRD FEEDER WHERE THE WIND WON'T ROAR THROUGH THE OPENING.

REMEMBER TO MIX SAND, AND GRIT, IN ADDITION TO SUCH FOOD ITEMS AS BREAD, CORN, RAISINS AND SUET.

IF THE BIRD FEEDER IS IN THE BACKYARD, PROTECT IT FROM PROWLING ANIMALS LIKE SQUIRRELS AND CATS BY NAILING A METAL TREE GUARD TO THE POLE.

A WIRE SOAP DISH ATTACHED TO A TREE WILL MAKE A GOOD SUET FEEDER.

Wayne Smith Is Pickaway County's Outstanding Young Man

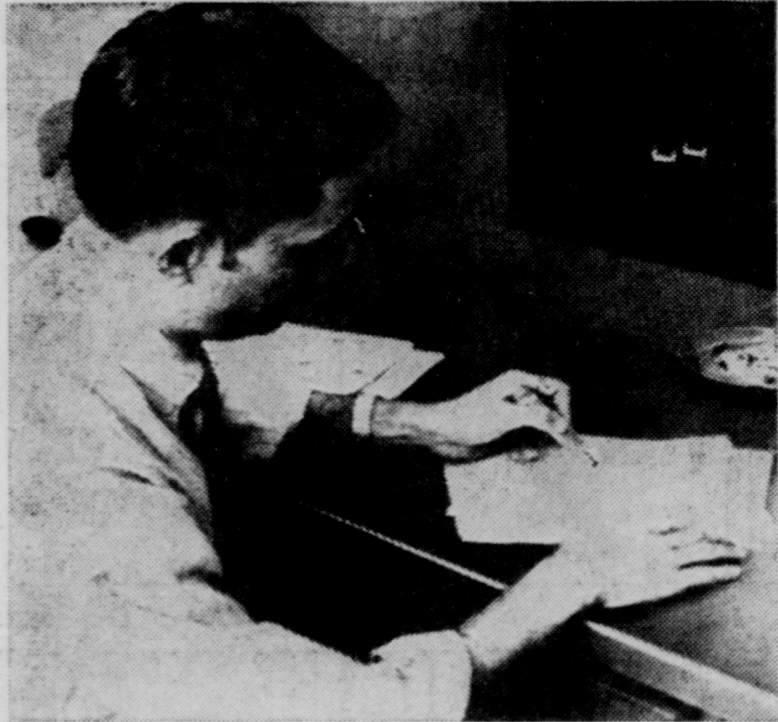

Wayne Smith, employe and community relations supervisor of the local GE Lamp Plant, was named the Outstanding Young Man of Pickaway County for 1968.

Smith, of 536 Edgewood Drive, was picked by a committee of local business and professional men on the basis of his contributions to the community during the past year.

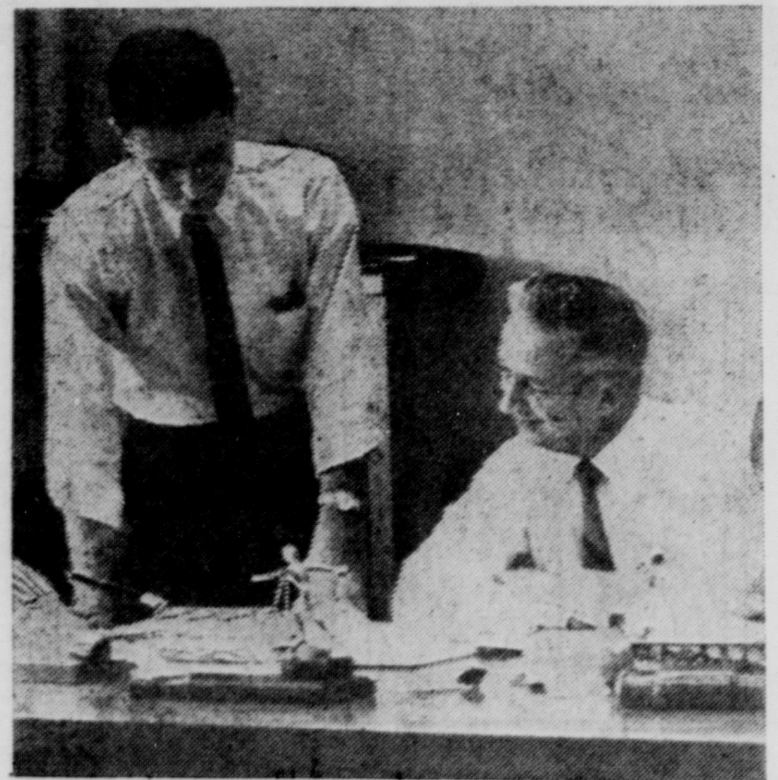

The community leader has distinguished himself through his work with the local Chamber of Commerce and his organization of the Deer Creek Reservoir dedication this summer.

FAMILY MAN — In addition to his work and community activities Wayne Smith is a devoted father of two small girls. Above he joins his wife Lois and the children in playing with Brandy, the 160-pound Saint Bernard. The children are (left to right) Jana, 7, and Angela, 3.

COMMUNICATIONS — Putting out a weekly newsletter for company employes is another of the activities Smith is charged with at General Electric. In addition to writing the material he must also plan the layout of the pages, which he is working on above.

IN CONFERENCE — Wayne Smith is the youngest man ever to attain a department level supervisory position at the local GE plant. Above he discusses a plan on employe relations with E. G. Grigg, plant manager.

RESERVOIR DEDICATION — Among Smith's major contributions to the community during the past year was supervising and coordinating the many state, federal and local organizations involved in the Deer Creek Reservoir dedication. Smith (right) views the complete project with Governor James Rhodes (left) and Congressman William Harsha (center).

Warren Safety Strike Still On

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Raymond E. Schryver says the salary and fringe benefit demands of police and firemen cannot be met without an increase in the city income tax or a special levy.

He said Tuesday that it would cost the city nearly $1 million a year to meet the demands.

Safety forces, who have been reporting off work since Sunday, want a wage increase, fully-paid hospitalization insurance and other benefits.

RESPONSIBLE SUPERVISOR — Smith is charged with running the clinic at General Electric for the benefit of the company employes. This includes checking progress reports and needed supplies for the clinic in cooperation with Dr. Carlos Alvarez (center) and the plant nurse, Mrs. Aaron Lumpe.

Manhunt Ends As Body Found On Rail Tracks

COSHOCOTON, Ohio (AP)—A countywide manhunt ended Tuesday night when police found the body of William Richards, 45, on railroad tracks in Coshocton. Police said he apparently was hit by a train.

Sheriff's deputies sought the Coshocton man in connection with the gunshot wounding of three people earlier Tuesday night in a rural home near West Lafayette.

Two of the victims, Victor Cutshall and his wife, both in their 50s, were brought to Coshocton Memorial Hospital.

The third victim Mrs. Cutshall's sister Betty McGinnis of Coshocton, was transferred to Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus.

total slightly under one-third of the budget.

The remaining third will go to other state departments, primarily to the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

This will be Rhodes' fourth and last budget since he will be unable to succeed himself when his second term as governor ends next year.

Rhodes' proposed budget for fiscal 1969-1971 will double the amount of his first budget of $3 billion for 1963-65.

The present two-year operating budget called for expenditures of $5.4 billion, but they are expected to reach $5.5 billion when this fiscal year ends June 30.

A spokesman said department heads cooperated more than ever in preparing the new budget. "Their requests were totally realistic based on the expected income," he said.

The state's new budget director, Mel Nowell, said preparation of his first budget was "quite an experience."

"The budget is a progressive package of using resources we have available," Nowell said. "Certain persons felt they should get more, but we have to live within our income."

Nowell added that "the work is just beginning. We spent seven months preparing it and now it will take the rest of the time to hold it together."

The proposed budget will go to the legislature in "a week or two," he said.

Although the budget does not call for new or increased taxes, this does not mean that Ohioans will escape paying additional taxes.

Collier explained that the governor's vocational and technical education will go to the legislature separate from the proposed operating budget.

Collier said if the legislature approves it, new sources of revenue will have to be found to fund it.

Use Of Challenges Cuts Hopes For Sirhan Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The defense and prosecution in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial were locked today in courtroom maneuvering that could delay seating a jury for another week or more.

The use of peremptory challenges was started unexpectedly Tuesday, the day on which it had been indicated a tentative jury would be accepted.

Sirhan is accused of fatally shooting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June.

Both sides had hinted earlier they might waive the 20 challenges allowed them to remove a prospective juror without citing a reason. But as the trial entered its third week Tuesday, each side used one such challenge.

The prosecution last Friday accepted a tentative panel of jurors "as now constituted." The defense was to give its decision Tuesday.

Then one tentative juror, Heien L. Woodworth, was excused for medical reasons. She was replaced by Geraldine Scherer, retired antique dealer from nearby Whittier, and defense attorney Grant B. Cooper said the defense would accept the jury, including Mrs. Scherer.

Judge Faces Bar Probe

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Judge Robert L. Steele of Euclid Municipal Court has been asked by the Cleveland Bar Association to appear before its grievance committee and to "refrain from exercising any judicial duties" until after the hearing.

Judge Steele earlier had appointed Euclid lawyer Donald D. Smith to serve as his substitute, but had announced previously that he intended to return to the bench Thursday night for traffic court.

The judge agreed to meet with the bar committee for a hearing tentatively set for the first week of February.

The Cleveland and Cuyahoga County Bar Associations are considering possible action against the judge for his alleged affair with Mrs. Barbara Swartz, a court clerk.

Alleged admissions by Judge Steele about the affair were published by Cleveland newspapers during the investigation of the slaying of the judge's wife, Marlene.

Mrs. Steele was shot to death in her bed early the morning of Jan. 9. Steele was cleared by a lie detector test of any implication in the slaying.

Former Mayor Of Minerva Dies
